Personnel Seek Service Charge In New Madrid

NEW MADRID — The City council, in a short business meeting Monday night, approved power plant construction payments, authorized a water extension, heard a report on street improvements and aired complaints from citizens.

Payments approved for the nearly completed steam generating station in St. Jude Industrial Park were $152,837.54 for construction materials, $100,879.93 for construction payroll for week ending July 7, and $71,418.32 for week of July 14.

An extension of water and fire protection services to the Cargill, Inc. River Grain Terminal was authorized. The firm had agreed to the costs of water lines with the city to pay the cost of fire plugs and meters.

City Administrator Don Lloyd advised the board that a service charge had been established for after-hours service calls and weekend and holiday calls made by city personnel. Lloyd also told the council Waters Engineering firm in Sikeston was preparing an overall plan for street improvement and drainage on the streets located east of Main street in the northeast section of town which would be ready for consideration in September.

The council agreed to investigate complaints by citizens concerning unauthorized persons riding in police vehicles with officers on night duty.

REP. BILL BURLISON, 10th District Democrat from Cape Girardeau, was honored at a campaign dinner Monday night at Ramada Inn in Miner. About 500 people attended.

Candidate's Son Finds Sugar In Tank

Boos and sugar in a gas tank have supporters of Ed Dowd for the Democratic nomination for governor upset.

The trouble began Thursday when Jim Dowd, son of the candidate, rose to speak on his father's behalf at the Scott County Young Democrat Club's "Meet the candidates" night at Sikeston Country Club. A few people booed Dowd.

Dowd left the country club after the meeting in a pickup truck, which doubles as a mobile campaign headquarters. He said he began having engine trouble near Cape Girardeau, pulled into a service station to have his engine checked and discovered that someone had poured sugar into his gas tank.

Scott County Prosecuting Attorney Tom Gilmore said he is pretty sure who was responsible for the incident. He said a member of the general public present at the meeting had been drinking too much and told others he was going to pour sugar into Dowd's gas tank.

Gilmore said if people with first hand information would come forward he would prosecute.

Robert Michell, Jr., president of the Young Democrat Club, said he "wants to publicly apologize for the act of childish vandalism that occurred" while Dowd was at the meeting.

"We are very grateful that Dowd would take the time to address our club," he said. "Jim Dowd added dignity to our meeting and integrity to Edward Dowd's campaign.

"We are sorry for this incident and hope that it never reoccurs."

REP. BILL HUNGATE 9th District Democrat from Troy, was principal speaker Monday night at the Bill Burlison appreciation dinner at Ramada Inn. He said the Democrats can have a winning ticket in November if there is harmony and fairness within the party.

Dexter Audit Gives Favorable Outlook

DEXTER — The annual city audit was presented to City Council members Monday night by Day-Spitzmiller and Company, a Sikeston accounting firm. A general statement by the firm said the city is in good financial condition.

The council passed an ordinance declaring any person stealing property valued under $50 guilty of a city offense. Another ordinance, at the request of property owner L. E. Caudle, approved the paving of an additional 150 feet of First Street and the remainder of Ray Street to Matthews Street.

The board passed a resolution to pave streets of West Side Subdivision. No tax bill is necessary for the paving, as it will be done at West Side Enterprises' expense.

A tie vote was broken by Mayor Willis Conner in favor of purchasing a deluge gun to be mounted on the new fire truck now under construction. Approximate cost of the equipment is $1,300.

Bids were opened during the meeting on three separate items. Sinclair Oil Co. bid was accepted to supply city vehicles with gasoline for one year. The Sinclair bid of 14.9 cents for regular and 16.5 cents for ethyl compared with a Standard Oil Co. bid of 14.4 cents for regular and 17.4 cents for ethyl.

Medler- Davis Chevrolet Co. was awarded a bid for two city trucks at $5,013.90 as compared with City Motor Sales' bid of $5,600.

Motorola Company of Sikeston was granted a bid for a mobile, portable walkie-talkie for the police department for $647 as compared with $671 bid submitted by Johnson Communication Service Company of Cape Girardeau.

An application for plumbing license for McMullin Excavating Company was approved.

An application to purchase a beer license from Fred Blaggs by Matthews Florida was tabled for discussion.

Pay ordinance for June was approved at $46,907.64.

Bond Challenge Suit Is Expected Today

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Rep. R. K. "Bus" King, R-Clayton said a suit probably would be filed in the Missouri Supreme Court today challenging the residency qualifications of state Auditor Christopher "Kit" Bond to run for governor.

Both are seeking the Republican nomination for governor.

In a St. Louis news conference Monday, Bond blamed Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes for stirring up the controversy over whether he has lived continuously in Missouri for the last 10 years as required by the Missouri Constitution.

The Jefferson City Post-Tribune printed a story last week that Bond declared himself a resident of Georgia in 1964 in getting his law license there.

Hearnes said Bond should reply to "the very serious issues raised" and make the facts known "instead of labeling this matter one of politics and trying to blame it on me."

The governor said either Bond was not telling the truth when he said he was a resident of Georgia or was not telling the truth when he voted as a Missouri resident.

Bond said he has always voted in his hometown of Mexico, Mo., and that is the real legal test of residency.

King called it "a matter of credibility."

"I'm not filing this suit to embarrass Mr. Bond," King said, "but because it's a real issue. He has been talking about openness in government and if he's got nothing to hide he ought to be willing to lay the facts on the table."

Bigfoot Type Reported In Missouri

LOUISIANA, MO. (AP)—Police in Louisiana, Mo., are on the lookout for a hairy creature between seven and 12 feet tall that's been reported roaming through northeastern Pike County.

Police said today residents are telling them they've spotted the alien—and it walks erect. Some people tell police they saw the mysterious visitor crossing a highway recently, with either a dog or a sheep in its mouth.

One person told police the "thing" picked up the back end of his small foreign car last night—then ran off.

Homeowners in rural Louisiana are keeping their doors locked and their children in the house until the creature is identified. Police say the city's Star Hill area is off-limits to sightseers and thrill-seekers.

Drug Sheets Are Limited

Police Lt. Leonard Campbell announced today that he has a limited supply of drug information sheets that he will make available to the public as long as the supply lasts.

Campbell said the information covers every type of drug.

Police Foil Robbery Try

CHARLESTON--The South Main Shell Station was the scene of an attempted robbery Monday night.

Police arrived at the station shortly before midnight as a man was attempting to rob a soft drink machine. A warning shot was fired, but the man escaped.

The station is owned by Jerry Nelson.

Hungate Calls For Support Of Ticket

Nearly 500 people gathered at Ramada Inn in Miner Monday night at a $25 - a-plate appreciation dinner honoring Rep. Bill Burlison, 10th District Democrat from Cape Girardeau.

Burlison was on hand to acknowledge the gesture and to greet people in an hour-long reception before the meal.

Principal speaker in behalf of Burlison was Rep. Bill Hungate, 9th District Democrat from Troy. Hungates speech, spiced with grassroots witticisms, emphasized that he felt major concerns for the Democratic Party were young people, old people, the small businessman, small farmers, blacks, feminists and labor.

Although little was said about the Democratic Party's presidential candidate, party unity was strongly stressed. A plea was made for votes to place Sen. Tom Eagleton in the vice presidency because it was felt he could be the best vice president since Harry Truman.

After Hungate finished, Burlison himself made a short speech in which he said his campaign was dependent on the support of the people, not support from large organizations. He, too, stressed that the Bootheel district would not let Eagleton down.

No Serious Injuries In Area Accidents

The highway patrol reported two traffic accidents and one non-traffic accident occurred in the area Monday with no serious injuries resulting from the accidents.

A one- car accident occurred at 9:30 p.m. on Highway 77 two miles south of Chaffee. A pickup truck, headed south and driven by Harold Gosche, 50, of Oran, ran off the highway and struck a bridge bannister. Gosche received minor cuts and was taken to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Another one- car accident was reported at 7:15 p.m. at the intersection of Highways 80 and 102 one mile east of East Prairie. A car, traveling west and driven by Jerry Scott, 31, of East Prairie, approached the intersection on Highway 102 and attempted to turn onto Highway 80. The car left the road and overturned when Scott applied the brakes.

Scott received cuts and bruises and two passengers in the car also received minor injuries. Donnie Matthews, 16, of East Prairie received scratches and bruises and Larry Dale Huston, 21, of East Prairie suffered scratches. None were hospitalized.

A non- traffic accident was reported at 8 p.m. on a field road on the Tony Burnett farm four miles west of Risco. A stripped- down vehicle driven by Larry Helgemo, 17, of Pontiac, Mich., was hotrodding when he lost control of the car and struck a utility pole, the patrol said. A passenger, Floyd Cook, 23, of Risco was taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital with possible back injuries.

Egypt Asks Soviet Union To Withdraw Military Advisers

CARIO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat has asked the Soviet Union to withdraw its military advisers from Egypt, informed sources said today.

Several were seen leaving on Sunday and Monday, shortly after Premier Aziz Sidky returned from a one-day visit to Moscow.

Sadat informed the 150-member Central Committee of the ruling Arab Socialist Union of the action today and several heads of foreign missions here were called in to see top Egyptian officials Monday—including the chief U.S. diplomat here, the informants said.

It was not immediately clear how many Soviet military advisers were to leave or how soon.

Estimates of the number of Soviet military advisers in Egypt range from 10,000 to 20,000.

They came after President Gamal Abdel Nasser's secret visit to Moscow in January 1970 in which he agreed to Soviet military presence. He went to the Soviet capital during Israel's deep penetration bombing raids against Egypt.

Two months later badly needed surface to air SAM missiles, manned by Soviets, began arriving in Egypt.

The withdrawal of military advisers, perhaps because they have finished their job and trained the 500,000-man Egyptian army, was expected to be popular among the masses.

Student demonstration blocked Cairo xstrets last January for nearly a week with participants questioning Egypt's relationship with the Soviet Union.

Transportation Issue May Not Make Primary

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The $730 million transportation bond issue, which some hoped would be on the November general election ballot in Missouri, looked dead Monday as backers of the proposal announced they would institute legal proceedings to withdraw the issue from voter consideration.

The action by the Missouri Transportation Bond Issue Committee followed reports that numerous forged signature were found on petitions submitted to Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick's office from the 8th Congressional District.

"I am deeply concerned that this situation makes it doubtful that the issue can be considered on its merits by the people of the State of Missouri," James E. Myers, committee chairman, said in St. Louis.

"The resultant publicity, in my opinion has caused a loss of confidence in the bond issue itself," Meyers said.

The measure if approved, would allow the state to sell $730 million in bond to finance highway construction, rural bridge repair and construction of urban airports and rapid transit systems under a new Department of Transportation.

The action to remove the proposition from the ballot apparently must be in the form of a civil suit because the secretary of state does not have the authority to determine the validity of the signatures.

When a similar question arose in 1970, Attorney General John C. Danforth ruled that once referendum petitions were filed with the secretary of state they could not be given back to the sponsors.

"We'll have to challenge the validity of our own petitions in that (8th Congressional) district to get it off the ballot," said George Lehr, a member of the bond issue steering committee and presiding judge of Jackson County.

Soviets, Occidental Petroleum Sign Five-Year Agreement

LONDON (AP) — The Occidental Petroleum Co. announced today that it has signed an agreement with the Soviet government to supply the Russians a wide range of scientific and technical services.

Informants in London estimated the value of the contract as high as $3 billion and said it was the biggest ever signed by a U. S. corporation with the Soviets.

Dr. Armand Hammer, the 72-year-old chairman of Occidental, told a news conference the agreement was signed in Moscow on July 14. He said it covers a five-year period and is renewable by mutual consent.

Hammer, who first did business with the Soviets shortly after the Bolshevik Revolution, said the contract covers five areas:

1. The exploration, production and usage of oil and natural gas in the Soviet Union.

2. Production of agricultural fertilizers and chemicals.

3. Metal treatment and metal plating.

4. The design and building of hotels in the Soviet Union.

5. The use of solid waste materials.

"The agreement is not restricted to the five areas mentioned," Hammer said, "but permits developed in other areas at any time by mutual accord."

The agreement also provides for compensations for the transfer of scientific and technological know-how the sale of patents and the sale of licenses, Hammer continued.

Hammer pointed out that his company's deal with the Soviet government was one of the first developments to follow in the wake of President Nixon's agreement during his Moscow visit two months ago for U.S.Soviet cooperation in the fields of science and technology.

"In 51 years of dealing with the Soviet government," said Hammer, "I have never found the grounds more favorable for the rapid expansion of EastWest trade than exists at present."

Occidental's chairman gave no indication of his financial arrangements with the Soviets, but some experts speculated that payment would be in crude oil and gas from the Siberian fields.

Rumors of the agreement circulated in Europe on Monday, and soon after they reached New York trading in Ocidental's stock was halted on the New York and West Coast stock exchanges.

Trading resumed on the West Coast after the New York market closed. In 2½ hours the stock jumped 19 per cent, from 12¾ to 15⅛ on a volume of 116,300 shares.

London's Financial Times reported before Hammer's announcement that Occidental was expected to head a consortium of U.S. oil and gas companies that would assist in the development of the Tyumen fields in Western Siberia.

There was speculation in London that this consortium would help build a 4,000-mile pipeline from the Siberian field to a coastal terminal.

Bond Set For Murder Suspect

NEW MADRID — Bond of $5,000 was set for Bennie Lusk, 25, when he was arraigned Tuesday on murder charges before Magistrate Judge Leo Hedgepeth. He failed to post bond.

Lusk, charged in the Sunday shooting death of Elbert T. Johnson, 31, at Gilmore's Tavern requested a preliminary hearing. The hearing date was left pending to allow Lusk time to obtain an attorney.

Planning Commission To Meet

The City Planning and Zoning Commission will meet tonight at 7:30 in the city administrative building at 215 North New Madrid.

Scheduled for discussion are the city manager's review of Sikeston's resources and revenue needs, and the city's comprehensive plan.

The commission will also consider subdivision of lot 15 in Sunset Subdivision for usage by Sikeston Recovery, Inc.

Hampton Named Staff Photographer

Bill Hampton

Billy G. Hampton Jr. has been named staff photographer of The Daily Standard, according to C. L. Blanton III, business manager.

Hampton came to The Daily Standard in December of 1971 from Cape Girardeau where he had been a commercial photographer for six years. His experience also includes insurance sales, television newsfilming, offset printing and free- lance newspaper photography. He attended Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau following graduation from Cape Central High School.

Hampton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hampton, Sr., live in Cape Girardeau. He is a member of the Centenary Methodist church in Cape Girardeau.

His favorite hobbies include electronics, photographic art and bicycling.

Hampton may be reached for pictures of news events by calling 471-1137 during the day or 472-0265 at night.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

There is danger in not getting scared enough.

* * *

It was bound to happen and it did. The House approved the first non-defense bill in history calling for more than $100 billion in the next fiscal year. The colossal appropriation is for the Departments of Labor and HEW, a cost of nearly $2,000. for every family in the United States.

Our bureaucracy is so tied up with red tape that it is impossible to find out where the money goes, who spends it and what, if anything, is accomplished. In the field of education alone, there are nine Federal departments and 20 different agencies. Seven agencies plan water and sewage treatment programs.

There are between 20 and 30 manpower training programs, each funded by a different Federal office. The trillion dollars spent in the last 25 years on domestic programs has created a bureaucratic maze of inefficiency and duplication.

When President Nixon said he wanted to consolidate domestic programs under four departments, intrenched bureaucrats let out a wail. Their favorite ploy is pretending that any streamlining will hurt the poor rather than the bureaucrats.

We hate to harp on such unpleasant subjects, but we ignore them at our peril. The government does not mug us, but it surely picks our pocket, taking nearly half of what the average person earns.

THE McGOVERN - EAGLETON TICKET

Like the campaign that earned him the Democratic nomination, Senator George S. McGovern's acceptance speech was the product of a realistic appraisal both of the problems that trouble the nation and of those things his party must accomplish if it is to defeat President Nixon in November. His selection of Missouri's Senator Thomas F. Eagleton as his vice-presidential running mate should strengthen the party's chances, although at the moment Mr. Eagleton shares the handicap Mr. McGovern himself had when he began his campaign 18 months ago, that of being relatively unknown nationally.

The first problem the Democratic ticket will have to face is division within the party — overrated, we think, but nontheless a reality — and in his speech Mr. McGovern wasted no time in trying to mend the breach. His first order of business was a warm tribute to all his opponents. And he was at pains to assure those who have criticized his proposed military policies that despite his opposition to the Indochina war and bloated Pentagon budgets, he is committed to keeping the nation "militarily strong" and its defenses "fully sufficient to meet any danger."

Indeed, there are signs that the remarkable talent of Democrats to reconcile bitter differences may already be at work. We cite Alabama's casting of all its votes for Mr. Eagleton in the interests of party unity and the escort provided by Gov. Hearnes, until recently the most obdurate of Mr. McGovern's opponents, of Mr. Eagleton to the podium.

The speech should dispell any doubts that may have arisen in the past few days that Mr. McGovern may be retreating from his uncompromising stand on the Indochina war. He has, he said, not a secret but a public plan for peace: an end to the bombing on his Inauguration Day and the return of all troops and prisoners within 90 days thereafter. That is a plan that can be kept, for unlike the Administration's peace proposals it is not mortgaged to the continuance of a corrupt and unrepresentative regime.

In his remarks directed at the Administration's mismanagement of the economy, Mr. McGovern made no mention of his income maintenance plan, stressing instead the need for tax reform and the creation, if necessary, of public service jobs to stimulate employment. This presages a major effort by the McGovern - Eagleton team to appeal to the middle and lower-middle class voters, who traditionally have been Democrats and whose vote are essential this year to the party.

He closed on a simple note, a call for America to "come home" — a phrase that reflected the widespread disaffection with the course of the nation that energized his campaign and brought so many "new people" who never before had engaged in politics into his campaign. Mr. McGovern will need to keep the loyalty and enthusiasm of this remarkable political organization intact while he and Mr. Eagleton make their appeals to the regular elements of the party. His acceptance speech provides a splendid blueprint for that task.

SUMMER AND THE MOWER

Summer and lawn mowers go together like love and marriage. Since you can't have one without the other, follow these rules outined by your local power mower retailer: 1) Read the owner's manual thoroughly and understand your machine before you begin. 2) Keep children and pets out of the yard while your're working. 3) Stop the engine when you leave the mower, even for a minute. 4) Keep your feet away from the blades when starting and running the mower. 5) Never pull the mower towards you - always push.

REAL EDUCATION ISSUES

President Nixon's signature of the school aid bill the other day was an act deserving of headlines, but it made them for the wrong reasons.

The attention - getter was the President's verbal lashing of Congress for failing to write antibusing provisions into the measure as he had requested.

Busing is, of course, a legitimate not to mention burning — as the President himself put it — educational issue. It is also a political issue, one which is very much a part of the building presidential campaign.

Emphasis on the flashy political highlights of the bill thus obscured its real significance — the establishment of a new basis for federal aid to higher education, which has nothing whatsoever to do with busing.

For the first time, federal money will be available to financially strapped institutions to use as they wish rather than as specific federal programs spell out. And as a matter of national policy, every student who cannot meet the full costs of an education can now look to the government for financial assistance — up to a maximum $1,400 through new loan and grant programs.

The effects will certainly be considerable, and endure long after this election and, just possibly, the busing issue are history.

That is the good news. The bad news, according to some expert observers of the academic scene, is that something much more will be necessary in the long run to solve education's money problem.

The Carnegie Commission on Higher Education which, under the direction of Clark Kerr, a former head of the University of California, has been examining in depth the state of the nation's colleges and universities since 1967, has released a report on the economics of education which finds the basic problem to be a classic case of inflation.

Expenditures on higher education have been increasing at a rate considerably greater than national economic growth, the commission found. The rise in spending from $7.6 billion in 1960 to $25 billion in 1970 represented a jump of from 1 per cent of the Gross National Product to 2.5 per cent. At the same rate of increase, spending would rise to $51 billion in 1980, or 3.3 per cent of GNP.

Too high, according to the Carnegie study, which recommended a 20 per cent reduction in spending during the next decade, to be achieved by such unpleasant steps as a "cautious" increase in student - faculty ratios, curbing faculty salary increases, trimming enrollments by encouraging "reluctant attenders" to deop out and by a major revision in standard academic practice, telescoping undergraduate study into three years instead of the traditional four.

The Carnegie report strongly accentuates the negative, but if it is anywhere near the mark in assessing the situation, higher education is going to have to look at least as much to itself as to Washington for relief from its financial bind.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks people get tired of hearing when they come back from a vacation:

"Have you been away?"

"You didn't get much of a tan, did you?"

"You missed the best weather of the year while you were away."

"I'd like to hear all about your vacation, but I guess it'll have to wait until I get back. I'm leaving on my own vacation in half an hour."

"You put on a few pounds, didn't you?"

"Oh, is that where you went? We stayed there year before last. Is it still as terrible as ever?"

"It's a good thing you came back so soon, George. That guy who filled in for you did a great job."

"Think of all the things you could buy now if you'd just stayed home and saved your money."

"Your children behaved like perfect little angels, but I'm glad you're back. Your daughter has the mumps and your son broke his collar bone yesterday, and right now he's getting pretty fretful." s

"I knew I'd left one of the gas jets on the stove burning. It has been burning for two whole weeks. Heaven knows what our gas bill will be this month."

"We missed you, George. But that new guy who filled in for you is an awful nice guy, too."

"I didn't even notice you'd gone until yesterday."

"The first thing I found in the mail this morning was a letter from that vacation lodge saying they had undercharged us $124.50, and asking you to send a check for that amount by return mail. Can they do that to us?"

"I know you said you had a fine time on your vacation, but tell me, what was it really like?"

"Of course, I want to hear about your vacation. But first I want to tell you about mine."

"You look tired. What you need is a vacation from your vacation."

"We'd love to come over and see the pictures you took on your vacation, George. Shall we make it next month sometime?"

"You picked a great time to come back. The worst heat wave of the season is supposed to start tomorrow."

"The guy who filled in for you bought the state lottery ticket you'd bought if you were here. He won a $1,000 consolation prize."

"Congratulations! You're a Father!"

BUSINESS URGES FLEXIBILITY IN FEDERAL LAND POLICIES

Federal land use policy that would "accommodate recreational, esthetic and economic uses" was strongly supported by the National Association of Manufacturers in a statement filed with the House Committee on Interior and Insular affairs.

In its statement the Association supported the general principles of multiple use of public lands, the development of practical means to dispose of Federal property when desirable, and limiting future Federal land acquisitions to areas that fulfill a "definite public purpose" so as not to remove land unnecessarily from the tax rolls.

The House Committee is considering the proposed Public Land Policy Act of 1971 (HR7211) which will be a legislative follow-up to the recommendations of the Public Land Law Review Commission.

The Association did question proposed wording which calls for retention of Federal ownership unless "it is conclusively determined that disposal of particular land or land areas would achieve maximum benefit for the general public." The NAM said that "each tract of land should be judged on the individual merits of the particular case without any presumptions either way."

The Association said: "We certainly support provisions for environmental protection of public lands; however, we believe any general public land-management legislation should specifically acknowledge the fact that certain essential natural resource developments necessarily involve disturbance of the environment, in which case the aim should be to minimize, avoid or repair such disturbances."

On the subject of offshore public lands, the NAM said the U. S. should assert its exclusive jurisdiction over the mineral resources of the entire submerged portion of the continent down to the ocean floor. "The current proposals to internationalize ocean areas beyond a depth of 200 meters should be strongly opposed," the NAM said. "Appropriate regulations are necessary and desirable to minimize pollution of waters in which development of natural resources in offshore public lands is taking place and to avoid other harm to the environment. Industry pledges full cooperation."

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

The nomination of Senator George McGovern of South Dakota as the presidential candidate of the Democratic Party is one of the most remarkable political success stories in American history. A man who was written off only six months ago as the hopeless candidate of a radical minority has emerged the victor, by a smashing margin and by means that are a credit to the bright young grass- roots organization that put him over the top.

There is complaining among the frustrated old pros at Miami Beach. They are saying that come November an extraordinary number of Democratic leaders will be found sitting on their hands. We do not accept that. The Old Guard is unhappy because new people have swept into the party and swept out many of the old ways; some conventional politicians are bewildered and resentful. But changes are here and will have to be accepted; we think that in the end most Democrats will opt for party harmony. Realistically, what else, in their own self- interest, can they do?

A number of politicians and journalists now admit that they underestimated Senator McGovern and that they were mistaken in hailing Senator Muskie of Maine as the frontrunner earlier in the race. No apologies are due on this score. Senator Muskie was the frontrunner. He is an honorable man who made an excellent impression on the country as a candidate for vice president, who seemed competent to assume the party leadership and who had broad acceptance among Democrats. His political ineptness was not revealed until the competition got tough.

And as for Mr. McGovern, we venture to speculate that he himself was surprised at his own success. He could not have known in the early days of his campaign what strength he could tap among the people and how many expert and dedicated young organizers would carry his banner. He could have guessed and hoped, but he could not have known this until it happened. Evidence in support of this view can be seen in some of the rather extreme specific positions taken and publicized by Mr. McGovern in the fledgling days of his campaign. Had he clearly foreseen the nomination he might have modified thsese sooner rather than later.

It Must be said that fortune smiled on Mr. McGovern; yet he demonstrated amply his planning and organizational ability. If his workers got some breaks, they showed they knew how to exploit them. Indeed the professionalism of some of Mr. McGovern's young and hitherto untried lieutenants was wonderful to behold. They played hard but fair, and the result was a campaign and a convention that was a credit to the candidate and his party, and which presumably was so viewed by the millions of Americans who followed the events on television.

It is not entirely the nomination of Mr. McGovern but the way in which it was brought about that represents a reaffirmation of faith in the processes of presidential selection. The young and the alienated, the disinherited, simply cannot say any longer that they are barred from the system. This in itself has had a therapeutic effect on the country, and George McGovern is entitled to full credit for bringing it about. It has greatly enhanced the worth of the nomination.

SKYJACKING IS PIRACY

Skyjackers are nothing more than modern-day air pirates, criminals endangering the lives of all air travelers. Pirates flourished on the high seas until the sovereign nations declared piracy a capital offense and commenced to enforce these laws by summarily hanging pirates upon capture, causing piracy to quickly pass from the scene.

The many millions of air travelers around the world are entitled to protection by the law. Laws need be enacted immediately by the U.S. and other nations which declare skyjacking to be air piracy and punishable by death and which prohibit airlines from paying extortion or ransom or acquiescing to any demands of skyjackers. Fast and tough enforcement of these laws for the benefit of all ciitzens, not bleeding-heart sympathy for the criminal, is the key to law and order and needs to be applied to air pirates.

The 747 Captain who defended his aircraft against an air pirate and the courageous FBI agents who shot two other air pirates, all within a week, should be commended by all citizens. The airlines could cause their stewardesses to be equipped with high potency tranquilizer guns such as big-game hunters and trainers use to immobilize big game instantly. A stewardess, upon being accosted by an air pirate, could fire a tranquilizer gun without endangering aircraft or passengers and cause instant unconsciousness of the air pirate. All stops need be pulled out by the government, airlines and traveling public to end the skyjacking farce, enforce the laws and protect the public at large.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Eagleton Not High: McGovern Snubbed Labor Chiefs During Veep Picking; They Now Plan to Retaliate

MIAMI -- And so the pert 18 - year - old, long - haired delegate Patty Anton and thousands like her in the mode and mood, adjourned their anti- war rally, known as the Democratic Convention of 1972, rushed back to the Gold Coast's Hotel Saxony here, the likes of which she had never seen, packed while chattering enthralled about all the celebrities she had seen " so close up" and flew back to Oskaloosa, Iowa.

But adjournment had not come until after the silly early morning hours when happy delegates gayly began casting Vice Presidential ballots for Marth Mitchell, Barbara Streisand, the Berrigan Brothers, the Yippies' Jerry Rubin and Archie Bunker.

This came about 3 a.m. Thus it had gone the night before until 6 a.m. -- debate on abortion, homosexuals at the mike passionately pleading for pro- gay planks in the platform, a dedicated lesbian and others from the other cultures. All amid cheers -- but none so loud as when orators and later the candidate himself, said there must be instant, unilateral withdrawal from the war at one minute after inauguration. Sen. McGovern's call for a strong America got him a ripple, not a roar.

They were doing their one thing - and it screwed the powerful national labor leaders up tighter on and off the convention floor. Nor were the feelings of the union chiefs and directors of their Committee on Political Education (COPE) assuaged by the Vice Presidential nomination of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton. Sen. McGovern did not make it easier for his new team by refraining from telephoning these labor leaders to brief them on his second -place choice.

Word had come to the union men, ensconced in the Hotel Fontainebleau and the Americana, that Mr. McGovern had been consulting and briefing important party personalities. But not George Meany or The Terrible Mr. Bang, as the disconsolate COPE director Al Barkean now is dubbed.

Sen. Eagleton is not Meany's kind of people. The attractive gentlemen from Missouri is rated worse than Sen. McGovern on COPE's rating. The Dakotan scored 75 per cent on labor's voting test -- the Missourian scored 73 per cent. Mr. Eagleton, by labor's standard, voted wrong on support of the SST, on the Lockheed loan and on confirmation of Supreme Court Justice William H. Rehnquist - for whom the labor chiefs have a special hate.

"Certainly no man could be elected and relected in Missouri as Eagleton has year after year without strong labor support," said one of Meany's intimates on Friday as they packed for a long rap session on the train ride back to Washingoton. "But we're not enthusiastic. He's just more of the same. So we're calling the Executive Council together and we'll have lots to say. Just give (I.W.) Abel's nominating speech for Hubert another going over and you'll see what we mean."

Those of us who heard "Abe" (United Steelworkers president) speak amid the uproar and boos Wednesday night know exactly what Meany's compatriot means. Its significance was lost amid what must be described as massive delegate rudeness and bi-dimensional interest only in the war and the new slogans -- Lettuce, Ladies and Race.

In his brief, bitter and angry talk, Abel, who is a power in the Keystone State of Pennsylvania, told it like it is:

"We're tired of the politicians who denoumce big labor and 'labor bosses' on Monday and then come to us on Tuesday with their hands outstretched...

"We've heard a lot about hypocrisy at this convention -- especially from those who call themselves the advocates of a new politics."

Then Abel hurled a series of charges against McGovern, accusing him of voting against some civil rights legislation, accusing him of bucking appropriations for summer jobs and hitting him on the Vietnam issue.

"Let's end hypocrisy that says that democracy is only for Americans and to hell with the rest of the world. If democracy is worth building at all, it's worth defending in the world," said Abel in a litany of challenges to the vast throng of young people and Sen. McGovern's carefully and strategically placed older disciplinarians.

"Give us a candidate who believes in a strong America and who believes that the cause of freedom doesn't stop at the water's edge."

Boos. Lots of boos. It was this disdainful treatment by the delegates which chilled the chances of Meany's coming in out of the cold.

So the debate will fizzle inside labor's executive suites. Meany got on the train content with his golf score but icy over his political rating here in the party he salvaged just four years ago when he personally managed Hubert Humphrey's campaign to within some five-tenths of one per cent of victory over Richard Nixon despite a late start and Eugene McCarthy's sabotage.

As Able said, labor believes that "liberal politicians" cannot win without labor. "The liberals could get the snob vote, but that's not America." When I.W. Abel raises cain, let the listeners beware. Especially if they are either McGovern or Eagleton, who with all due respect to the youth of Oskaloosa, Iowa, are in desperate need of the middle-aged of Middle America.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- After the tumult and troubles of the Democratic Convention, the triumphant George McGovern is wondering how to convince labor lord George Meany and Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, that they should support him in November.

The two power brokers of the Stop McGovern movement are stubborn, angry and not easily appeased. Without Meany, McGovern can't get the backing of organized labor which has been essential to every Democratic presidential candidate in modern times.

Without Daley, the McGovern ticket will be in deep trouble in Illinois. And no president except Woodrow Wilson has been elected who lost Illinois.

McGovern sought the advice of his presidential rival, Hubert Humphrey, who was supported by Meany and Daley. "Let things cool for a while," Humphrey suggested. "Don't move too fast. Everybody's tempers are up. Everybody is locked into position. My advice is to cool it."

McGovern asked whether Humphrey would help bring Meany an Daley into the McGovern camp. "Noboby wants to be delivered and frequently they can't be," cautioned Humphrey. It would take a delicate personal relationship, he suggested, for McGovern to win over the two curmudgeons. Humphrey felt that his intervention now "might backfire." But "at the proper time," he thought he might "be of help."

For years, Humphrey and McGovern were close friends and next- door neighbors. Their friendship was strained, however, by their intense personal rivalry.

HUMPHREY'S CALL

When Humphrey lost the crucial credentials fight on the opening night of the convention, he decided to withdraw his candidacy. He picked up the telephone to notify McGovern, who had already gone to bed.

"This is worth getting up for, George," said Humphrey. Then he explained his intention to withdraw and offered his good wishes. "Six months of competition in the political arena," he said, "can't destroy 10 years of being neighbors and friends."

McGovern asked his old friend's advice about a running mate. Senator Ted Kennedy had already turned down the vice presidential nomination because of family obligations, but McGovern hoped to persuade him to change his mind.

Humphrey agreed that Kennedy would add great strength to the ticket. Humphrey had two other suggestions -- House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills and Connecticut's Senator Abraham Ribicoff. Mills would give "fiscal integrity" to the ticket, said Humphrey.

He also added this pointed advice: "The hope of victory rests in carrying those big states. You want a ticket that can carry New York and California.

After McGovern's formal nomination, Humphrey put through another call to him. It was the first call McGovern accepted.

"George, I know what it means to go through this," said Humphrey. He understood the hard work and the heartache and, finally, the moment of exhiliaration. "Enjoy this moment," urged the old neighbor. "Treasure it. Savor it."

McGOVERN'S DATA BANK

Senator George McGovern has come out four- square against the "pervasive power of computer data banks," but this hasn't restrained him from putting together a data bank of his own.

In his successful fight for the Democratic presidential nomination, McGovern's campaign staff assembled a computerized profile of every delegate who attended the convention.

At the push of a button, McGovern's lieutenants could determine any delegate's name, address, telephone number, spouse, race, sex, age, political position, religion, military service, occupation and education

They also knew whether a delegate had attended past conventions, their "interests" and their stand on issues such as busing and the war.

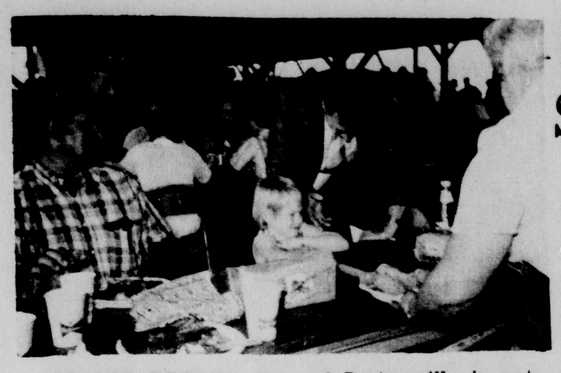

The computer profile on Harold Hughes, for example, showed the Iowa senator's favorite "issues" are "party reform" and "alcoholism." His "interests" include "veterans- Amer Legion."

Hughes attended the 1964 convention as a Johnson supporter, the profile reveals, but backed McCarthy in 1968 at the Chicago convention. The senator's "education" is listed as "some college." His religion: "Methodist."

Pennsylvania's multimillionaire Gov. Milton Shapp, the computer printout shows, is "Jewish" with "interests" in Jewish, veterans, and civic groups. But the McGovern camp apparently feels Shapp is dull; under the "issues" section, they list none.

Delegate Philip H. Hoff, the former governor of Vermont, according to his computer profile, is "Protestant," supported McCarthy in '68, opposes the Vietnam war, and has "interest" in civil liberties and "civic groups."

The computerized profile on Arizona's Rep. Morris K. Udall shows he is a Mormon, whose "pledge" is Muskie but whose "preference" is McGovern.

Morris Supports Democratic Ticket

CONRAN — Support was urged Saturday for the Democratic national ticket — Sen. George McGovern for president and Missouri's Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton for vice president by Lt. Governor Bill Morris and U. S. Rep. Bill D. Burlison at a New Madrid County Democratic Party barbecue and fish fry.

Speaking briefly before an estimated 800 persons, Morris, a Kansas Citian who is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor in the Aug. 8 primary election, said he believed the McGovern - Eagleton ticket could win in the state "if we get out and work."

Sensing the subdued reservations about Sen. McGovern, as well as exuberance for Eagleton among party regulars, Morris said there were many things he wanted to find out about the Democratic platform from Eagleton, and listed tax reform, welfare, amnesty, capital punishment and "a lot of other things.

" I can't support a platform that includes abolition of capital punishment or recognizes abortion and marijuana," Morris said, "but I can support the ticket as men."

Burlison, a candidate for reelection from the 10th Congressional District, said, "Don't believe all this 'gunk' you read and hear about," noting that Sen. McGovern was from a conservative midwestern agricultural state. Of Eagleton, he said his voting record is impeccable and unimpeachable.

Burlison expressed appreciation for being invited to attend the barbecue. There have been reports the party regulars were irked with the Cape Girardeau representative for his activities in electing delegates, and that a move might be made to unseat him in the August primary in favor of Ed Faulkenberry of House Springs.

Charleston Police Report

CHARLESTON — Three arrests were reported Monday night by the police department.

Appearking before City Judge Frank Gillespie this morning on charges of driving while intoxicated were Roy Lee Johnson, 35, of Charlotte, Fla., and Ernest Robinson, 41, of Selmer, Tenn. Each paid fines of $108, and 30- day jail sentences were stayed on payment of fines and costs. Deborah Kay Stark, 18, of Charleston was fined $10 for speeding.

Daley Will Support McGovern

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley isn't mentioning Sen. George McGovern by name, but he says he "will support every candidate on the Democratic ticket, federal, state and local."

Daley, making his first public appearance since he and 58 delegates loyal to him were replaced by a rival delegation to the Democratic National Convention, isued his blanket endorsement in a statement read at a news conference Monday.

His statement did not mention presidential nominee McGovern by name, and he dodged questions about the South Dakota senator's chances in Illinois.

"I think the voters will give you that answer," Daley said when asked whether he thought McGovern would be a better leader than President Nixon.

Illinois, with 26 electoral votes, is one of the key industrial states that most political analysts agree a Democratic presidential candidate must carry. The support of Daley and his associates in Chicago is generally regarded as necessary to offset a traditionally heavy Republican vote downstate.

Hijackers Plead Innocent

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The two alleged architects of the June 23 hijacking of two American Airlines jets here pleaded innocent to air piracy charges Monday in U.S. District Court and were scheduled to stand trial Aug. 7.

"I am not guilty and innocent of all charges," said Martin J. McNally, 28, of Wyandote, Mich., after Judge James H. Meredith read the indictments against him.

Walter J. Petlikowsky, 31, of Ecorse, Mich., also pleaded innocent to the two counts of air piracy which were handed down in indictments returned by a federal grand jury here.

Burglary Case Bound Over

BLOOMFIELD — Tommy Jones, 24, of North Mulberry Street in Dexter was bound over to Stoddard County Circuit Court Thursday by Judge Koss Blomeyer in Magistrate Court on charges of burglary and stealing.

Jones is accused of breaking into Ringer Hardware and Lumber Company of Dexter on Feb. 12. Taken from the store were 10 shotguns, five rifles and approximately $50 in cash.

Jones was arrested in Poplar Bluff by the Butler County sheriff's department after they received an anonymous phone call that guns were being unloaded from the trunk of a car, driven by Jones, at a house in Poplar Bluff. Fingerprints matching those of Jones were found on some of the guns.

James Wayne Schubert, along with Jones, are also charged with damaging the county jail building.

Sheriff Ed Edwards testified that the night of July 4 the two caused a disturbance in the jail by tearing a commode from the floor of their cell and damaging plumbing. The two were found guilty and were given a 60-day jail sentence and restitution.

Schubert is being held in the jail pending trial in Circuit Court on charges of a forged check.

Amos Andrew Richardson of Essex Route One was ordered to appear at a preliminary hearing set for July 20 on a charge of driving while intoxicated, third offense. Richardson was also charged with driving while license revoked and given a 30-day jail sentence and court costs and a $10 fine and $12.10 costs for driving a vehicle and failing to transfer the license plate.

Charges against Gene Blankenship of stealing less than $50 were continued to July 26.

Mike Christman of Dexter was fined $10 and $13.50 court costs and given a 30-day jail sentence for interferring with the jail.

Other fines and court costs of $12.10 each were levied against Brown Middleton Jr. of Advance, $15, speeding; Leta Kenna of Puxico Route 2, $5, permitting an unauthorized operator; James William Troute of Puxico Route Two, $5, permitting an unauthorized operator; Clifton Eugene Wilkison of Puxico, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident; John Cooper Daniels, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident;

Margaret Mace of Puxico Route Two, $10, no operator license, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident; Jessie Neely Bolin of Bonne Terre Route Two, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident; Brian Palmer of Bernie, $10, out -of-state license plate; Glendal Vernon Weathers, $50, possession of liquor; Richard A. Massey, $5, fishing without a license; Vernon Carroll Morgan, public intoxication, $10 and 30 - day suspended jail sentence; Gary Dale Teel, $50, possession of liquor; Calvin Dale Smith, $15, littering; and Gene Ray Worley of Dexter, $10, operating a mortorcycle without license qualifications.

A preliminary hearing was set for Ralph Steakley for July 20 on charges of exhibiting a deadly weapon.

Ann Landers

Teen Spots Trouble And No One Will Listen

Dear Ann Landers: I'm only 17 years old so of course nobody in this dumb family listens to me. But I know something is wrong and if you print my letter and your answer, Aunt Millie will surely see it because she quotes you all the time.

Aunt Millie has been divorced for three years. Her son is six years old. The boy's father left the country and with luck he'll never come back. He was no good.

Aunt Millie's son is a very pretty kid -- looks more like a girl than a boy. His hair is long (gorgeous blonde curls) and his mother puts ribbons in it and and makes his face when company comes over. Last week she bought him some organdy pinafores and took pictures of him in his girlie outfit.

The child acts like a girl and I seel real trouble ahead. I mentioned it to my mother and she said, "He'll outgrow it." She also told me to mind my own business.

What are the chances for this boy growing up to be a normal male? -- Worried.

Dear Worried: Very slim. His mama obviously wants a girl, and her son is going to see to it that she isn't disappointed. If someone can talk some sense into your Aunt Millie's head soon and get that boy to a therapist, he might be salvaged provided Mama gets some therapy too.

Dear Ann Landers: I am trapped in my own home by a brother who came to live with my husband and me a few years ago when he retired.

Immediately after breakfast he starts to drink beer. He drinks beer all day long, one can after the other. By the time I put supper on the table he is either nasty, silly, silent, or engaged in a full blown dialogue with himself, asking questions and answering them as if he were putting on a two-actor play, with himself taking both parts. It's nervewracking!

Both my husband and I have tried to reason with him but it's useless. He flies into a rage and tells us he's old enought to know what he wants to do. Please tell me how to deal with this man. He has changed our home from a pleasant place to a house of quarreling and discontent. I can't ask him to leave because he has no living relative but me. --Trapped In Colorado

Dear Trapped: You are being grossly unfair to your husband. Tell your brother unless he is willing to cut out the guzzling, he will have to find himself a rented room somewhere because he is ruining your home life.

I'm sure you know he's an alcoholic -- and there are places an alcoholic can go for help, if he wants to dry up.

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from the young girl whose uncle got funny with her made me hopping mad. Such uncles are few and far between, like one in a million. Your column cast ugly aspersions on the wonderful uncles everywhere. You owe them all an apology. -- Main Reader

Dear Reader: You are right when you say funny uncles are few and far between. But they do exist. I received over a hundred letters from grown women who wrote to express thanks. They said that particular column brought back some nightmarish memories but they were glad I printed it. In almost every instance their parents never had a clue about the funny uncle and they were afraid to tell. One reader put it this way, "I hope that column opens some eyes, Ann. Your column is a post-graduate course in human relations and kinky relatives."

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to this newspaper.

Q—Who wrote the "Timothy Titcomb Letters"?

A — The American writer Josiah Gilbert Holland. They were a commentary on the manners and morals of his times.

Inspirational programs included the following: Flag-raising and flag- lowering, a singspirational and campfire, and a "folk" vespers service.

Assisting were Mrs. Betty Ressel of Kelso and Mrs. Rita Bader, of Dexter, 4-H leaders. Also helping were Mrs. Elaine Malcolm of Sikeston and Mrs. Judi Atherton of Dexter, youth educational assistants, University of Missouri extension division.

Soprano Calls Opera An Expensive Business

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Young people are getting breaks sooner in opera because it is now possible to be thrown right into a big role rather than having to play lesser roles during a long period of apprenticeship, says lovely Marisa Galvany of Fair Lawn, N.J., an American girl who made a singing career "without going to Europe." She is with the New York City Opera.

Opera is still an expensive business for performers and it still requires great discipline which helps tame the ego, but discouragement doesn't set in from lack of breaks if you have talent, says Marisa, now in her early 30s.

"My debut came exactly that way. I was worked right into a role playing Queen Elizabeth. In addition to getting a chance to be heard, the imperiousness of the role provided me with an opportunity to get some of my arrogance out of my system."

The well-known soprano's voice has been described variously "as a dramatic coloratura rising to luscious low register . . . a voice, chesty at its bottom, warm and velvety . . . a soaring voice. She has been touring with Sol Hurok for five years.

"The disciplines are enormous," she says. "I miss family dinners, and the household must revolve around my interests. Sally, my 11-year-old, often is deprived of those Sunday mother-daughter outings, and she often cannot invite children to the house if they have colds to which I can't expose myself.

Designers Spurn Dressy Evening Wear For Men

ROME (AP) — Italian men's designers have declared war on the classic dinner jacket.

In fact, the fall-winter collections shown here Sunday spurned any kind of dressy evening wear. The closest one designer came to it was with shantung kimono-type jackets or the military tunic of some comic strip character.

Designers appeared to have passed the word around to concentrate on sporty outfits with their tweedy jackets, plaids and fancy checks.

The couturiers widened their ties and kept their jackets narrow, though seldom marking the waist. One favored high buttoned vests that peeped out from the suit coats.

Valentini squared shoulders and gave many of his outfits an almost oblong shape. In particular, he designed suede-cloth uniform tunics, closed by a zip fastener, from which a poloneck sweater emerged.

He used the same style for an evening suit, all black except for the hand-painted gold patterns across the top. This outfit was closed under one arm giving the impression it had been molded over the model.

In many cases, the designers did away with buttons and closed jackets with a zipper. One couturier, however, not only kept buttons but covered them with the same fabric as his suits.

A Mach number expresses the ratio between the speed of an object and the speed of sound in the medium through which the object is traveling. A plane moving at the speed of sound is traveling at Mach 1; at twice the speed of sound, Mach 2.

Geriatric Center Director Says Elderly Need Better Nutrition

NEW YORK (AP) — The majority of elderly Americans living alone — rich or poor — do not consume an adequate diet. That is the opinion of Dr. Herbert A. Seltzer, executive director of the Daughters of Jacob Geriatric Center here, who has conducted studies on the nutrition of the elderly and what can be done to improve it.

"The social aspect of eating is very important," he says. "How many people living alone are going to make a whole meal day after day? Instead they snack and eat the wrong foods."

Poor nutrition often is not so much a matter of money, though this can be a factor, as of failure to take the time or make the effort to prepare a balanced meal, adds Seltzer.

He suggests those living alone make arrangements wherever possible to share meals and mealtime with others in the same situation. "Find someone in the apartment building or neighborhood and eat together; make it a dutch treat or alternate preparation of the meals."

And he recommends that those who must eat alone make a ceremony out of it, cooking a full-course, balanced meal and eating it in the proper setting, perhaps with candles on the table and a little wine to go with the dinner if it's approved by their doctor.

The director, who holds an MA from Harvard and a Doctor of Divinity degree from the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, has headed the geriatric center for the past 32 years. A nonprofit Federation of Jewish Philanthropies agency, it has more than 500 residents ranging in age from 70 to 109.

Good eating habits are especially important to the elderly because they are conducive to better health, Seltzer points out. "If they stuff themselves with snacks they become obese and if they lose interest in food they fade away into nothing."

He considers absolutely essential one hot nutritional meal a day, seven days a week. He thinks more local programs such as "Meals-on-Wheels," through which a balanced, hot meal is delivered ready to eat, would go a long way toward solving the problem.

"It's an outrage that local institutions don't use their kitchens to provide such meals," Seltzer declares. "Without straining the dietary facilities of a hospital, many additional meals could be produced. The cost of raw food is the smallest part in institutional preparation and if an organization regularly serves 300 meals it won't cost that much more to prepare an extra 100 to be sent out to people who otherwise wouldn't have a hot, nourishing meal."

Not only do older people fail to eat properly because they won't take the time or trouble but by the time they've reached their 80s they have gotten into eating patterns that are impossible to break.

"Regardless of what specialized diet a person is on it's possible to eat balanced meals within the restrictions, but our dietician knocks her brains out to prepare a nutritionally balanced meal and some of them leave it and then go into the snack shop to fill up," the director laments.

Seltzer advises the elderly, who often have no idea what elements constitute an adequate diet, to get a booklet on nutrition from any health agency and adhere to it rigorously.

Gibson Wins 10th Straight

HOUSTON (AP) — Every pitcher has to lose sometime. Or does he? Bob Gibson has plenty of chances to ponder the question.

"Who says you have to lose?" Gibson challenged Monday night after he decked the Houston Astros 3-2 with a ninehit performance which included 13 strikeouts.

"I guess you do, but I don't spend any of my time thinking about it," he said. "You try to build up your own confidence for each game and not think about losing. I don't look forward to breaking the string."

"The string" is 10 straight victories for the 37-year-old rapid-fire artist after losing his first five decisions of the season.

Gibson protected his streak Monday night by whiffing nine of 10 batters in one stretch and walking only one Astro — and that was intentional.

Does he get any satisfaction out of silencing his critics with 10 straight victories?

"When I win 10 games in a row I don't have my critics in mind at all," Gibson said.

There certainly weren't any critics in the Astros' dressing room.

"If you play cards with a guy and he gets a hot hand, what are you going to do — slap his wrists?" Astros manager Harry Walker asked.

Lou Brock staked Gibson to a 1-0 lead in the sixth inning with a run-scoring single and Gibson was most appreciative.

"If I were in a World Series ... I can't think of any guy I'd rather have than that guy right there (Brock)," Gibson said. "I've been through three World Series with him and I know what he can do when the chips are down."

Brock's lead didn't stand up as Bob Watson tied things up with a double scoring Cesar Cedeno in the seventh.

Donn Clendenon put the Cards over the top with a solo homer in the eighth and Luis Melendez hit a run-scoring single to wrap it up.

Houston scored another run in the eighth on Lee May's single.

Gibson called himself a slow starter but said, "This is the first time I started out without any victories.

"The only time I started fast, I was 8-0 and before I knew it I was 8-7." Gibson said he just didn't get going good until well into the season. Despite this, he may even lose a game sometime — but it doesn't seem like it.

Poplar Bluff Hosts Horseshoe Pitching

POPLAR BLUFF- AAU championship competition in horseshoe pitching will be held here for the first time as the Poplar Bluff Park and Recreation Department hosts the Ozark AAU horseshoe pitching championships on Aug. 5-6.

According to AAU officials, this is the first time a championship has been held in this popular sport in the Ozark Association. The Ozark Association roughly comprises the eastern half of the state of Missouri.

Championship play will be held in both singles and doubles. Entry fee is two dollars per player in each event. All participants must be AAU - registered and this must be done prior to competition.

Complete tournament information, entry blanks and AAU registration forms are available from the tournament director, John Lawson, Supt. of Parks & Recreation, P. O. Box 472, Poplar Bluff, Missouri 63901.

Sports Briefs

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The American Basketball Association champion Indiana Pacers will entertain the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association Oct. 4 at the Indianapolis Fairgrounds Coliseum, then travel to Flint, Mich., for a return match the next night.

The two exhibition games against the Pistons were announced by the Pacers Monday night.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Vitas Gerulatis of New York City, the No. 3 seed in the 18and-under division of the National Junior Clay Court Championships, was overpowering in his first-round match, easily downing Rick Schaeffer of Louisville 6-1, 6-0.

John Whitlinger of Neenah, Wis., the defending 18-and-under champion, also had little trouble gaining Tuesday's second round, defeating Robert Wright of Fullerton, Calif., 6-3, 6-2.

Allen Tops Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Allen, a two-time All-Star in the ational League, was the top vote-getter on the American League All-Star team announced today by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The Chicago White Sox slugger, who leads the American League with 19 home runs and 61 runs batted in, received 1,092,758 of the 3,171,556 votes cast in the nationwide poll of fans. Allen, acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers in a major winter trade, easily won the starting first base assignment over Detroit's Norm Cash, the runnerup with 729,753 votes.

Only one other player received more than one million votes. That was veteran third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, who easily got the nod at third base over Oakland's Sal Bando, 1,041,128 votes to 362,360.

The only team with more than one representative on the starting all-star team is the Boston Red Sox, who placed Luis Aparicio at shortstop and Carl Yastrzemski in the outfield. The 43rd annual All-Star Game will be played Tuesday night July 25 in Atlanta and will be nationally televised by NBC.

Joining Allen, Aparicio and Robinson in he starting infield will be Rod Carew of Minnesota, a starter for the sixth straight time. Carew polled 832,055 votes to 411,253 for runnerup Cookie Rojas of Kansas City.

Reggie Jackson of Oakland topped the outfielders in the voting with 902,421. Joining him in the starting outfield will be Yastrzemski, 603,151, and Bobby Murcer of New York, 506,241.

Detroit's Bill Freehan will be the starting catcher, having outpolled Cleveland's Ray Fosse 767,538 to 483,366.

Carew, Aparicio, Robinson and Yastrzemski also were starters last year. Robinson is making his eighth all-star appearance, Freehan his sixth, Aparicio his fifth, Yastrzesmki his fourth, Jackson his second and Murcer his second.

Allen was named to the starting team twice as a National Leaguer, once with the Philadelphia Phillies and once with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The National League's starting team, announced Monday, lists Lee May, Houston, first base; Joe Morgan, Cincinnati, second base; Joe Torre, St. Louis, third base; Don Kessinger, Chicago, shortstop; Johnny Bench, Cincinnati, catcher, and Hank Aaron, Atlanta, Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh, and Willie Stargell, Pittsburgh, outfield.

Managers Danny Murtaugh of the National League and Earl Weaver of the American League will select the pitching staffs for their teams, as well as the reserves. They need not pick the runners-up in the fans balloting.

Sr. Stars... Champs

Sikeston's Senior Babe Ruth All- Stars showed signs of a "real" championship team Monday afternoon when they withstood a four-run final- inning rally by the SeMo All- Stars to record a 9-6 second straight triumph in the best of three series, cementing the District 3 title and right to advance to the state finals Thursday at Jefferson City.

SeMo used a late rally in the first game of the series Friday night to hang up a runaway 16-1 win, but the Sikeston crew roared back Sunday to capture a 13-inning pitching duel, 3-2, setting the stage for the deciding Monday night win.

Mike Mitchell, victim of the SeMo stars' first game rally, stymied the SeMo athletes on five hits and two runs through six innings, but tired and gave up four runs and four hits in the final frame before subduing the all- stars from Lilbourn, New Madrid, Bertrand and East Prairie.

Sikeston's All- Stars placed second in the state last season and third the season before. And as one of this year's star pitchers put it ... "It's our turn for the title and the trip to the regional playoffs."

It looked as if the Sikeston Stars were in for a long game as an error in the first inning handed the visiting SeMo unit a quick 1-0 lead. Mitchell worked out of the jam and sent his team into the rewarding second frame.

Catcher John Leible, whose game- winning single ended the 13- inning duel Sunday, started the Sikeston stars rolling with a lead- off triple. The Sikeston lineup caught fire and exploded with seven runs in the second- inning rally for a commanding 7-1 lead. Four hits followed Leible's crowd-pleasing shot, including a double from Mike Collier and back-to- back singles from Paul Johnson and Bob Blankenship.

Tim Bard worked through the first part of the second frame for the SeMo Stars and gave way to McClarty, who likewise was tagged in the big inning. Bard received the loss as McClarty and Girvin supplied relief work.

Sikeston's final two runs came in the third inning on two hits and three walks, pushing the edge to 9-1.

A single run in the fifth inning, backed by two singles in the SeMo lineup doubled the visitor's total and left the Sikeston lead at a 9-2 mark. In the last- Inning effort, the SeMo stars collected four singles and utilized two errors to cut the Sikeston lead to its final three- run margin. Singles from SeMo's Dambach, Harmon and Pat McClarty paced the losers' final surge. McClarty led SeMo with three hits.

Mitchell fanned 10 batters and walked only three in picking up the district championship mound win. Sikeston's Greg Colwick and Mike Collier paced the winners at the plate with two hits each. Collier came across the plate with two Sikeston runs, as did Rick Dyer.

Sikeston will pack up Thursday morning and head for a Thursday evening entry into state competition at Jefferson City. Sikeston will meet the winner of the District 2 playoff and Jefferson City first round meeting. Five teams are entered in the state event.

Tri-County, Chaffee Wins Open Play

Tri- County and Chaffee emerged as first round winners Monday night opening action of the Junior Babe Ruth District 3 tournament at V.F.W. Stadium.

Tri- County collected a slim 6-5, extra- inning triumph over New Madrid in the opening contest to move into tonight's 7 p.m. second-round tilt with East Prairie.

Chaffee exploded for 12 first- inning runs and galloped to a 15-9 final win over Charleston in the nightcap and moved into a 9 p.m. bout with Sikeston tonight.

Both East Prairie and Sikeston drew first round byes in the six- team tournament and move into action for the first time tonight. Monday night's losers — New Madrid and Charleston — dropped into the loser's bracket of the double- elimination event to await a shot at tonight's victims.

In Monday's first game, New Madrid scored two seventh- inning runs, capitalizing on a fielding miscue , a balk and a timely two- run single from S. Taylor to tie the game 5-all at the end of regulation play.

Tri- County rebounded with the winning run in the top of the eight frame, sending leadoff batter Schlosser home with the lead run after the first baseman reached base on an error. Caldwell supplied the RBI drive that earned the Tri-County unit the victory.

Hatchell went the distance for the winning Tri-County squad and picked up a triple at the plate to score the team's first run.

In the nightcap, three leadoff walks set up a clean-up double for Chaffee's McIntosh in the first inning to star the winners on a 12-run first- inning rampage. the opening burst kept Chaffee in the lead throughout the game, although Charleston threatened with six runs in the fourth inning of the15-9 battle.

Bess went the distance for Chaffee, checking the Charleston lineup on six hits. Bess and Wachter powered the winners' lineup with two of the team's seven hits apiece.

Sports Briefs

GSTAAD, Switzerland (AP) — Andres Gimeno of Spain beat Adriano Panatta of Italy 7-5, 98, 6-4 in the men's singles finals of the Swiss International Tennis Championship Sunday.

Kazuko Swamatsu of Japan won the women's singles crown by defeating Pam Teeguarden of Los Angeles 6-3, 4-6, 6-2.

Home Runs Anchor National Wins

NATIONAL LEAGUE — Home runs keyed both victories in National League action Monday night. Lewis Furniture's Davis blasted two home runs and two doubles and teammate McGee added a home run and a double to lead their team to a 13-9 triumph over Security National Bank.

A & B Leasing's Mark Lee blasted a two out, fence - clearing home run in the ninth inning to put his team in the winner's circle with a 9-8 extra - inning verdict over Legion.

Lewis' win was powered by a 10-hit attack and backed with the one-hit pitching of Deal and Francis. Davis' two home runs and two doubles accounted for five Lewis RBI's, and the Lewis catcher also scored four runs.

A & B had scored six runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to send the game into extra innings before Lee sent the A & Bers home with the one run win.

AMERICAN LEAGUE — First National Bank pulled two games ahead of Police in American League action Monday night, as the Western Division frontrunners scored a 15-5 win over Sealtest. Caproco was dumped in the nightcap in a 12-5 loss to Fabick and fell a full game behind Fabick in the Eastern standings.

Fabick, 10-1, picked up the win behind a 14-hit barrage paced by the two-hit efforts of Garrett, Duncan and Francis.

Mayfield collected four hits and scored three runs to pace First National Bank in its 15-5 win over Sealtest. Longstreet added three hits to the attack.

MUSIAL LEAGUE — Collins Construction all but clinched a Musial League Eastern Division title last night in a 9-8 win over Bank of Sikeston Monday night, shutting down a last-inning, four - run Bank rally to preserve the win. Bank's loss dropped the squad back into a first place deadlock with idle Kingsway Plaza in the Western Division race.

In the evening's first game, Hart's Bread dropped Todd Laundry, 13-5, and moved its record to a 4-8 mark. Three hits each from Hart's Smith and Daniel paved the way in the 13-hit attack.

Collins' 9-8 win over Bank of Sikeston in the nightcap gave the Constructioneers an 11-1 mark in the Eastern standings, a comfortable lead over runnerup Malone and Hyde, 8-3.

Memorial Proposed

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A Berkshire peace group wants to build a bomb crater in Pittsfield's square as a memorial to the devastation of the Vietnam war.

The Berkshire Peace Center has petitioned the City Council for permission to construct the 8x20-foot crater, to simulate the aftermath of a 500-pound bomb similar to those dropped in Vietnam.

"We would guarantee the crater site would be maintained with flowers and shubbery as a memorial to those who have died in Vietnam, the petition said.

The park now has a memorial to those who died in the Civil War.

Housing Loan Approved At Chaffee

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congressman Bill D. Burlison of Missouri's 10th Congressional District today announced that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a loan of $10,000 to the City of Chaffee for Public housing under the turnkey program.

Burlison, a Cape Girardeau Democrat, noted that the project calls for the construction of 50 units of low-rent public housing consisting of 34 units of non-elderly and 16 units of elderly housing.

Highlights & Sidelights
from Our State Capitol

JEFFERSON CITY -- A program under which college-bound high school students in Missouri may receive as much as $900 in state financial aid may not get off the ground until September 1973, higher education officials say.

The program, established this spring by the Missouri General Assembly, faces delays due to lack of financing and possible court challenges.

Under the program, upper class students are not eligible for the grants, but freshmen who receive them will be able to continue to receive them for a maximum of 10 semesters or of their equivalent. The state scholarships could be used at any public or private college of university in Missouri.

Senate Bill 613 authorized $1.3 million for the program which would be matched by equal funds from the U.S. Office of Education. However, the General Assembly failed to make the appropriations.

"Our request for state appropriations will be turned in around mid- September," said Don Lindenbusch, deputy executive director and director of financial planning and development of the Missouri Higher Education Commission. The Commission is charged with administering the program.

Lindenbusch said the program may not be funded until fiscal 1973-74, and that he did not expect the full $1.3 million if the program were funded for the period beginning January 1973.

Qualifications for the scholarships include residency and financial need. Lindenbusch suggested that students also would qualify for the program through educational testing. Similar programs exist in 22 other states. However, Allen W. Purdy, director of Student Financial Aid Services at the University of Missouri, who will aid in the development of the program, was uncertain about deciding qualificatioons.

"Qualifications have not been worked out," Purdy said. "Nothing has been put down in writing beyond what the law says."

He said exact qualifications would not be determined until the program has received funding and passed any court challenge.

A challenge is possible from goups that opposed passage of the program while it was in the General Assembly. It has been called unconstitutional by the Missouri Baptist Christian Life Commission among other organizations. The Baptist group contends that the program would in effect be state aid to private institutions.

Purdy said he did not know how long a court action would take, but he added, "If everything went smoothly and quickly, some freshmen in school in September (1972) may get a grant to help them the following September."

Eagleton Outlines Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — As president, Sen. George McGovern would grant amnesty on a case-by-case basis and limit it to draft resisters, his Democratic running mate says.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, picked by McGovern Thursday as the Democratic party's vice presidential candidate, also predicted higher taxes by 1974. And he said there will be no mass defections of leading party figures to the Republicans.

The Missouri Democrat said there is no basic difference on amnesty between McGovern and President Nixon. Neither man would grant automatic amnesty to deserters and both would delay the question until the fighting stops, he said.

Eagleton commented Sunday on the CBS television-radio program "Face the Nation."

Eagleton said he would discuss campaign strategy with McGovern at a South Dakota resort later this week.

The 42-year-old senator also:

—Said the draft should continue as long as the shooting does because "the risk of dying should be shared equally."

—Acknowledged McGovern would leave Air Force and Naval forces in Thailand and elsewhere in the Pacific after U.S. troops were withdrawn from Indochina. These forces might be reduced gradually later, he said.

—Said he believes the Vietnam war would not be ended as long as South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu is in office.

—Declared McGovern's $1,000-per-person income redistribution program is being substantially reworked.

—Declared up to $10 billion could be pared from the defense budget this fiscal year.

—Said that, if elected, he expects to specialize in law and order and urban affairs.

—Called Vice President Spiro Agnew "Nixon's hatchet man" and added "it seems to be his role to go around and try to divide the nation."

Clean Water Bonds

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The first sale of $20 million worth of water pollution bonds approved by the voters last October will be held in Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' office next Thursday at 11 a.m.

The 25-year bonds are part of a total of $150 million authorized by the voters.

The money will go for the state's 25 per cent share of local sewage and other water pollution control projects, with cities putting up 20 per cent and the federal government 55 per cent.

Sealed bids were received by the Board of Fund Commissioners starting today and will be opened next Thursday.

The bonds will mature serially on June 1 of each year, starting with a payment of $570,000 next year and $1,205,000 as a final payment in 1997. Larger amounts may be redemmed by the state if the money is available starting in 1987.

What's The Law?
The Case Of The Noisy Highway

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

George was so sensitive to noise that an ant walking around in his cookie jar could probably keep him awake all night. Consequently, picutre has consternation when he was suddenly awakened one morning by cars speeding to and fro on a new highway that had been built practically right under hisnoise.

Actually, the state had condemned a large portion of George's land for highway purposes and had paid him for doing so. But he never figured that when the highway was completed, it would only be 50 feet from his front door. Suddenly there it was.

And, being a practical fellow, George knew that he wasn't going to be able to move the highway. So he did the next best thing. He sued the state for damanges.

"While I may have gotten paid for the land that was taken," he told the judge, "I didn't get paid for the damage to the land I kept. And with all that noise at my doorstep, its value has been reduced and that's damage enought."

"Nope," responded the attorney for the state. "A person can only get paid for damage to property when the property has been damaged. And, anybody knows that sound waves can't damage property."

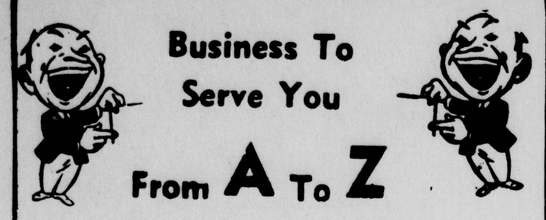

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you award George damaged because of the noise caused by the highway?

his is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that, generally, a person cannot collect for damages to his property in the absence of some definite physical injury. Payment is not required, concluded the judge in effect, because something affects his senses. (Based upon a 1969 Utah Supreme Court Decision)

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, July 18, the 200th day of 192. There are 166 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in the year 64 A.D. the great fire of Rome began. The legend is that Emperor Nero set the fire and fiddled as the city burned.

On this date:

In 1776, New Jersey declared itself independent of British authority.

In 1792, the American naval hero, John Paul Jones, died in poverty in Paris.

In 1914, the U.S. Army created an Aviation Section within the Signal Corps and six planes were made available for air training.

In 1932, the United States and Canada signed a treaty to develop the St. Lawrence Seaway.

In 1938, flier Douglas Corrigan—nicknamed "Wrong Way Corrigan"—arrived in Ireland after leaving New York on a flight ostensibly to California.

In 1964, thousands of blacks rioted in New York's Harlem after the shooting of a young black by a policeman.

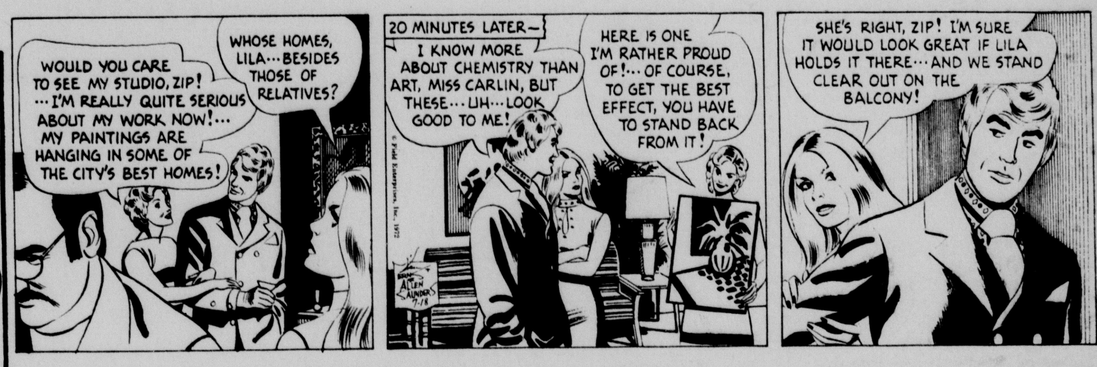

Ten years ago: The government of Peru was overthrown by military leaders and the United States halted military aid to that country.

Five years ago: Railroad workers began returning to work, ending their nationwide strike and President Johnson named a conciliation panel to settle the dispute.

Sinatra Testifies To Crime Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Sinatra marched grimly into a House Select Crime Committee room today and accused the committee of indecently and irresponsibly letting a convicted felon "bandy my name about."

"It was character assassination, let's face it," the retired crooner told a jammed hearing room.

Sinatra said the committee should have immediately refuted the testimony of Joseph (The Baron) Barboza May 24 that the singer had been a front man for La Coa Nostra money in the Fontainebleau and Sand Hotels in Miami Beach and Las Vegas.

"This bum went running off at the mouth and I resent and I won't have it," Sinatra said. "I'm not a second class citizen. Let's make that clear."

"How do you repair the damage that was printed in the newspapers?" he demanded.

Committee counsel Joseph Phillips said Barboza unexpectedly made the charge about fronting for the mobs in the two hotels when he was asked about a completely unrelated matter at the May 24 hearing.

Phillips said the answer could not have been anticipated or cut off and noted that the Fontaineb eae had filed an affidavit denying the story.

"And at that point someone, presumably the counsel, should have done something to refute that story," Sinatra said. He suggested the committee should have called the press in and announced the hotel's statement.

"I don't have to refute it because there isn't any truth to it," Sinatra said of the Fontainebleau story at another point.

As for his purchase of stock in the Sands hotel in 1963, he said that was bought "with my own money."

The huge House caucus room was jammed with spectators and at least 200 people waited outside as Sinatra began testifying.

There were several squeals of recognition reminiscent of his crooner days as he came down a corridor, moving unsmilingly and quickly toward the committee room.

Deaths

J. H. KING

HOLCOMB — Services for J. H. King, 67, who died Sunday at 10:20 a.m. in Festus of an apparent heart attack, were held today at 2 p.m. at Landess Funeral Home in Campbell. The Rev. Howard Harmon officiated.

Burial was in Stanfield Cemetery near Clarkton.

He was born June 1, 1905 at Calico Rock, Ark. He married Elizabeth Logsdon in 1926. He was a farmer and had lived in this area for 30 years.

Survivors include his widow; four sons, David King of Arnold, Robert King of Florissant, Caroll King of Fairbanks, Alaska, and James King of Overland Park, Kan.; one brother, Earnest King of Houston, Tex.; three sisters, Mrs. Hattie Dillard of Calico Rock, Mrs. Lucille Houner of Norfork, Ark., and Mrs. Willie Shipley of Oklahoma; and 11 grandchildren.

DEWEY B. FREEZE

CHARLESTON — Dewey Bryan Freeze, 72, died at 7:30 a.m. today in Veterans Hospital in Poplar Bluff after an extended illness. The body is at McMikle Funeral Home where arrangements are incomplete.

ELBERT T. JOHNSON

NEW MADRID — Services for Elbert T. Johnson, 31, who died Sunday of gunshot wounds, will be conducted at 2 p.m. Sunday at Freewill Baptist Church.

Burial will be in Fannie Powell Cemetery with Richards Funeral Home in charge.

He was born June 7, 1941 in New Madrid to Nathaniel and Isabell Miles Johnson, who survive. He served in the Army for three years and was a Vietnam war veteran.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by four brothers, Albert Lee Johnson of Chicago, Ill., Nathaniel Johnson, Jr. and Eddie B. Johnson, both of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Robert Lee Johnson of Marion, Ind., and two sisters, Ernestine T. Hooks of St. Louis and Coralee Hunt of Kalamazoo.

Niederkorn Joins USAF

Sgt. Lewis B. Perdue, U. S. Air Force recruiter, has announced the enlistment of Timothy R. Niederkorn of Chaffee.

Timothy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Niederkorn and a recent graduate of Kelly High School at Benton.

He was sworn into the Air Force delayed enlistment program in ceremonies held in St. Louis on July 10. He is scheduled to leave for basic training on Sept. 13. He enlisted into the mechanical career field.

Police – Arrest Disturber

Police today announced the arrest of Newton Pearson of 16 Dover Street for peace disturbance.

Personnel Seek Service Charge In New Madrid

NEW MADRID — The City council, in a short business meeting Monday night, approved power plant construction payments, authorized a water extension, heard a report on street improvements and aired complaints from citizens.

Payments approved for the nearly completed steam generating station in St. Jude Industrial Park were $152,837.54 for construction materials, $100,879.93 for construction payroll for week ending July 7, and $71,418.32 for week of July 14.

An extension of water and fire protection services to the Cargill, Inc. River Grain Terminal was authorized. The firm had agreed to the costs of water lines with the city to pay the cost of fire plugs and meters.

City Administrator Don Lloyd advised the board that a service charge had been established for after-hours service calls and weekend and holiday calls made by city personnel. Lloyd also told the council Waters Engineering firm in Sikeston was preparing an overall plan for street improvement and drainage on the streets located east of Main street in the northeast section of town which would be ready for consideration in September.

The council agreed to investigate complaints by citizens concerning unauthorized persons riding in police vehicles with officers on night duty.

REP. BILL BURLISON, 10th District Democrat from Cape Girardeau, was honored at a campaign dinner Monday night at Ramada Inn in Miner. About 500 people attended.

Candidate's Son Finds Sugar In Tank

Boos and sugar in a gas tank have supporters of Ed Dowd for the Democratic nomination for governor upset.

The trouble began Thursday when Jim Dowd, son of the candidate, rose to speak on his father's behalf at the Scott County Young Democrat Club's "Meet the candidates" night at Sikeston Country Club. A few people booed Dowd.

Dowd left the country club after the meeting in a pickup truck, which doubles as a mobile campaign headquarters. He said he began having engine trouble near Cape Girardeau, pulled into a service station to have his engine checked and discovered that someone had poured sugar into his gas tank.

Scott County Prosecuting Attorney Tom Gilmore said he is pretty sure who was responsible for the incident. He said a member of the general public present at the meeting had been drinking too much and told others he was going to pour sugar into Dowd's gas tank.

Gilmore said if people with first hand information would come forward he would prosecute.

Robert Michell, Jr., president of the Young Democrat Club, said he "wants to publicly apologize for the act of childish vandalism that occurred" while Dowd was at the meeting.

"We are very grateful that Dowd would take the time to address our club," he said. "Jim Dowd added dignity to our meeting and integrity to Edward Dowd's campaign.

"We are sorry for this incident and hope that it never reoccurs."

REP. BILL HUNGATE 9th District Democrat from Troy, was principal speaker Monday night at the Bill Burlison appreciation dinner at Ramada Inn. He said the Democrats can have a winning ticket in November if there is harmony and fairness within the party.

Dexter Audit Gives Favorable Outlook

DEXTER — The annual city audit was presented to City Council members Monday night by Day-Spitzmiller and Company, a Sikeston accounting firm. A general statement by the firm said the city is in good financial condition.

The council passed an ordinance declaring any person stealing property valued under $50 guilty of a city offense. Another ordinance, at the request of property owner L. E. Caudle, approved the paving of an additional 150 feet of First Street and the remainder of Ray Street to Matthews Street.

The board passed a resolution to pave streets of West Side Subdivision. No tax bill is necessary for the paving, as it will be done at West Side Enterprises' expense.

A tie vote was broken by Mayor Willis Conner in favor of purchasing a deluge gun to be mounted on the new fire truck now under construction. Approximate cost of the equipment is $1,300.

Bids were opened during the meeting on three separate items. Sinclair Oil Co. bid was accepted to supply city vehicles with gasoline for one year. The Sinclair bid of 14.9 cents for regular and 16.5 cents for ethyl compared with a Standard Oil Co. bid of 14.4 cents for regular and 17.4 cents for ethyl.

Medler- Davis Chevrolet Co. was awarded a bid for two city trucks at $5,013.90 as compared with City Motor Sales' bid of $5,600.

Motorola Company of Sikeston was granted a bid for a mobile, portable walkie-talkie for the police department for $647 as compared with $671 bid submitted by Johnson Communication Service Company of Cape Girardeau.

An application for plumbing license for McMullin Excavating Company was approved.

An application to purchase a beer license from Fred Blaggs by Matthews Florida was tabled for discussion.

Pay ordinance for June was approved at $46,907.64.

Bond Challenge Suit Is Expected Today

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — Rep. R. K. "Bus" King, R-Clayton said a suit probably would be filed in the Missouri Supreme Court today challenging the residency qualifications of state Auditor Christopher "Kit" Bond to run for governor.

Both are seeking the Republican nomination for governor.

In a St. Louis news conference Monday, Bond blamed Democratic Gov. Warren E. Hearnes for stirring up the controversy over whether he has lived continuously in Missouri for the last 10 years as required by the Missouri Constitution.

The Jefferson City Post-Tribune printed a story last week that Bond declared himself a resident of Georgia in 1964 in getting his law license there.

Hearnes said Bond should reply to "the very serious issues raised" and make the facts known "instead of labeling this matter one of politics and trying to blame it on me."

The governor said either Bond was not telling the truth when he said he was a resident of Georgia or was not telling the truth when he voted as a Missouri resident.

Bond said he has always voted in his hometown of Mexico, Mo., and that is the real legal test of residency.

King called it "a matter of credibility."

"I'm not filing this suit to embarrass Mr. Bond," King said, "but because it's a real issue. He has been talking about openness in government and if he's got nothing to hide he ought to be willing to lay the facts on the table."

Bigfoot Type Reported In Missouri

LOUISIANA, MO. (AP)—Police in Louisiana, Mo., are on the lookout for a hairy creature between seven and 12 feet tall that's been reported roaming through northeastern Pike County.

Police said today residents are telling them they've spotted the alien—and it walks erect. Some people tell police they saw the mysterious visitor crossing a highway recently, with either a dog or a sheep in its mouth.

One person told police the "thing" picked up the back end of his small foreign car last night—then ran off.

Homeowners in rural Louisiana are keeping their doors locked and their children in the house until the creature is identified. Police say the city's Star Hill area is off-limits to sightseers and thrill-seekers.

Drug Sheets Are Limited

Police Lt. Leonard Campbell announced today that he has a limited supply of drug information sheets that he will make available to the public as long as the supply lasts.

Campbell said the information covers every type of drug.

Police Foil Robbery Try

CHARLESTON--The South Main Shell Station was the scene of an attempted robbery Monday night.

Police arrived at the station shortly before midnight as a man was attempting to rob a soft drink machine. A warning shot was fired, but the man escaped.

The station is owned by Jerry Nelson.

Hungate Calls For Support Of Ticket

Nearly 500 people gathered at Ramada Inn in Miner Monday night at a $25 - a-plate appreciation dinner honoring Rep. Bill Burlison, 10th District Democrat from Cape Girardeau.

Burlison was on hand to acknowledge the gesture and to greet people in an hour-long reception before the meal.

Principal speaker in behalf of Burlison was Rep. Bill Hungate, 9th District Democrat from Troy. Hungates speech, spiced with grassroots witticisms, emphasized that he felt major concerns for the Democratic Party were young people, old people, the small businessman, small farmers, blacks, feminists and labor.

Although little was said about the Democratic Party's presidential candidate, party unity was strongly stressed. A plea was made for votes to place Sen. Tom Eagleton in the vice presidency because it was felt he could be the best vice president since Harry Truman.

After Hungate finished, Burlison himself made a short speech in which he said his campaign was dependent on the support of the people, not support from large organizations. He, too, stressed that the Bootheel district would not let Eagleton down.

No Serious Injuries In Area Accidents

The highway patrol reported two traffic accidents and one non-traffic accident occurred in the area Monday with no serious injuries resulting from the accidents.

A one- car accident occurred at 9:30 p.m. on Highway 77 two miles south of Chaffee. A pickup truck, headed south and driven by Harold Gosche, 50, of Oran, ran off the highway and struck a bridge bannister. Gosche received minor cuts and was taken to Southeast Missouri Hospital in Cape Girardeau.

Another one- car accident was reported at 7:15 p.m. at the intersection of Highways 80 and 102 one mile east of East Prairie. A car, traveling west and driven by Jerry Scott, 31, of East Prairie, approached the intersection on Highway 102 and attempted to turn onto Highway 80. The car left the road and overturned when Scott applied the brakes.

Scott received cuts and bruises and two passengers in the car also received minor injuries. Donnie Matthews, 16, of East Prairie received scratches and bruises and Larry Dale Huston, 21, of East Prairie suffered scratches. None were hospitalized.

A non- traffic accident was reported at 8 p.m. on a field road on the Tony Burnett farm four miles west of Risco. A stripped- down vehicle driven by Larry Helgemo, 17, of Pontiac, Mich., was hotrodding when he lost control of the car and struck a utility pole, the patrol said. A passenger, Floyd Cook, 23, of Risco was taken to Dexter Memorial Hospital with possible back injuries.

Egypt Asks Soviet Union To Withdraw Military Advisers

CARIO (AP) — President Anwar Sadat has asked the Soviet Union to withdraw its military advisers from Egypt, informed sources said today.

Several were seen leaving on Sunday and Monday, shortly after Premier Aziz Sidky returned from a one-day visit to Moscow.

Sadat informed the 150-member Central Committee of the ruling Arab Socialist Union of the action today and several heads of foreign missions here were called in to see top Egyptian officials Monday—including the chief U.S. diplomat here, the informants said.

It was not immediately clear how many Soviet military advisers were to leave or how soon.

Estimates of the number of Soviet military advisers in Egypt range from 10,000 to 20,000.

They came after President Gamal Abdel Nasser's secret visit to Moscow in January 1970 in which he agreed to Soviet military presence. He went to the Soviet capital during Israel's deep penetration bombing raids against Egypt.

Two months later badly needed surface to air SAM missiles, manned by Soviets, began arriving in Egypt.

The withdrawal of military advisers, perhaps because they have finished their job and trained the 500,000-man Egyptian army, was expected to be popular among the masses.

Student demonstration blocked Cairo xstrets last January for nearly a week with participants questioning Egypt's relationship with the Soviet Union.

Transportation Issue May Not Make Primary

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The $730 million transportation bond issue, which some hoped would be on the November general election ballot in Missouri, looked dead Monday as backers of the proposal announced they would institute legal proceedings to withdraw the issue from voter consideration.

The action by the Missouri Transportation Bond Issue Committee followed reports that numerous forged signature were found on petitions submitted to Secretary of State James C. Kirkpatrick's office from the 8th Congressional District.

"I am deeply concerned that this situation makes it doubtful that the issue can be considered on its merits by the people of the State of Missouri," James E. Myers, committee chairman, said in St. Louis.

"The resultant publicity, in my opinion has caused a loss of confidence in the bond issue itself," Meyers said.

The measure if approved, would allow the state to sell $730 million in bond to finance highway construction, rural bridge repair and construction of urban airports and rapid transit systems under a new Department of Transportation.

The action to remove the proposition from the ballot apparently must be in the form of a civil suit because the secretary of state does not have the authority to determine the validity of the signatures.

When a similar question arose in 1970, Attorney General John C. Danforth ruled that once referendum petitions were filed with the secretary of state they could not be given back to the sponsors.

"We'll have to challenge the validity of our own petitions in that (8th Congressional) district to get it off the ballot," said George Lehr, a member of the bond issue steering committee and presiding judge of Jackson County.

May Exceed $3 Billion

Soviets, Occidental Petroleum Sign Five-Year Agreement

LONDON (AP) — The Occidental Petroleum Co. announced today that it has signed an agreement with the Soviet government to supply the Russians a wide range of scientific and technical services.

Informants in London estimated the value of the contract as high as $3 billion and said it was the biggest ever signed by a U. S. corporation with the Soviets.

Dr. Armand Hammer, the 72-year-old chairman of Occidental, told a news conference the agreement was signed in Moscow on July 14. He said it covers a five-year period and is renewable by mutual consent.

Hammer, who first did business with the Soviets shortly after the Bolshevik Revolution, said the contract covers five areas:

1. The exploration, production and usage of oil and natural gas in the Soviet Union.
2. Production of agricultural fertilizers and chemicals.
3. Metal treatment and metal plating.
4. The design and building of hotels in the Soviet Union.
5. The use of solid waste materials.

"The agreement is not restricted to the five areas mentioned," Hammer said, "but permits developed in other areas at any time by mutual accord."

The agreement also provides for compensations for the transfer of scientific and technological know-how the sale of patents and the sale of licenses, Hammer continued.

Hammer pointed out that his company's deal with the Soviet government was one of the first developments to follow in the wake of President Nixon's agreement during his Moscow visit two months ago for U.S.Soviet cooperation in the fields of science and technology.

"In 51 years of dealing with the Soviet government," said Hammer, "I have never found the grounds more favorable for the rapid expansion of EastWest trade than exists at present."

Occidental's chairman gave no indication of his financial arrangements with the Soviets, but some experts speculated that payment would be in crude oil and gas from the Siberian fields.

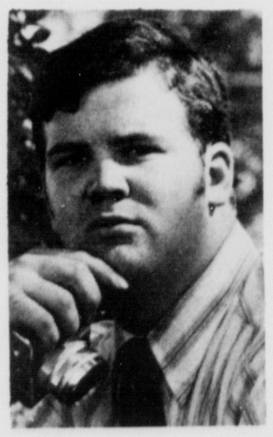

Rumors of the agreement circulated in Europe on Monday, and soon after they reached New York trading in Ocidental's stock was halted on the New York and West Coast stock exchanges.

Trading resumed on the West Coast after the New York market closed. In 2½ hours the stock jumped 19 per cent, from 12¾ to 15⅛ on a volume of 116,300 shares.

London's Financial Times reported before Hammer's announcement that Occidental was expected to head a consortium of U.S. oil and gas companies that would assist in the development of the Tyumen fields in Western Siberia.

There was speculation in London that this consortium would help build a 4,000-mile pipeline from the Siberian field to a coastal terminal.

Hampton Named Staff Photographer

Bill Hampton

Billy G. Hampton Jr. has been named staff photographer of The Daily Standard, according to C. L. Blanton III, business manager.

Hampton came to The Daily Standard in December of 1971 from Cape Girardeau where he had been a commercial photographer for six years. His experience also includes insurance sales, television newsfilming, offset printing and free- lance newspaper photography. He attended Southeast Missouri State College in Cape Girardeau following graduation from Cape Central High School.

Hampton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hampton, Sr., live in Cape Girardeau. He is a member of the Centenary Methodist church in Cape Girardeau.

Hampton may be reached for pictures of news events by calling 471-1137 during the day or 472-0265 at night.

Bond Set For Murder Suspect

NEW MADRID — Bond of $5,000 was set for Bennie Lusk, 25, when he was arraigned Tuesday on murder charges before Magistrate Judge Leo Hedgepeth. He failed to post bond.

Lusk, charged in the Sunday shooting death of Elbert T. Johnson, 31, at Gilmore's Tavern requested a preliminary hearing. The hearing date was left pending to allow Lusk time to obtain an attorney.

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

There is danger in not getting scared enough.

* * *

It was bound to happen and it did. The House approved the first non-defense bill in history calling for more than $100 billion in the next fiscal year. The colossal appropriation is for the Departments of Labor and HEW, a cost of nearly $2,000. for every family in the United States.

Our bureaucracy is so tied up with red tape that it is impossible to find out where the money goes, who spends it and what, if anything, is accomplished. In the field of education alone, there are nine Federal departments and 20 different agencies. Seven agencies plan water and sewage treatment programs.

There are between 20 and 30 manpower training programs, each funded by a different Federal office. The trillion dollars spent in the last 25 years on domestic programs has created a bureaucratic maze of inefficiency and duplication.

When President Nixon said he wanted to consolidate domestic programs under four departments, intrenched bureaucrats let out a wail. Their favorite ploy is pretending that any streamlining will hurt the poor rather than the bureaucrats.

We hate to harp on such unpleasant subjects, but we ignore them at our peril. The government does not mug us, but it surely picks our pocket, taking nearly half of what the average person earns.

* * *

Until the time comes when a man can wear short skirts and cross his legs in front of the jury, rights are only an illusion.

THE McGOVERN - EAGLETON TICKET

Like the campaign that earned him the Democratic nomination, Senator George S. McGovern's acceptance speech was the product of a realistic appraisal both of the problems that trouble the nation and of those things his party must accomplish if it is to defeat President Nixon in November. His selection of Missouri's Senator Thomas F. Eagleton as his vice-presidential running mate should strengthen the party's chances, although at the moment Mr. Eagleton shares the handicap Mr. McGovern himself had when he began his campaign 18 months ago, that of being relatively unknown nationally.

The first problem the Democratic ticket will have to face is division within the party — overrated, we think, but nontheless a reality — and in his speech Mr. McGovern wasted no time in trying to mend the breach. His first order of business was a warm tribute to all his opponents. And he was at pains to assure those who have criticized his proposed military policies that despite his opposition to the Indochina war and bloated Pentagon budgets, he is committed to keeping the nation "militarily strong" and its defenses "fully sufficient to meet any danger."

Indeed, there are signs that the remarkable talent of Democrats to reconcile bitter differences may already be at work. We cite Alabama's casting of all its votes for Mr. Eagleton in the interests of party unity and the escort provided by Gov. Hearnes, until recently the most obdurate of Mr. McGovern's opponents, of Mr. Eagleton to the podium.

The speech should dispell any doubts that may have arisen in the past few days that Mr. McGovern may be retreating from his uncompromising stand on the Indochina war. He has, he said, not a secret but a public plan for peace: an end to the bombing on his Inauguration Day and the return of all troops and prisoners within 90 days thereafter. That is a plan that can be kept, for unlike the Administration's peace proposals it is not mortgaged to the continuance of a corrupt and unrepresentative regime.

In his remarks directed at the Administration's mismanagement of the economy, Mr. McGovern made no mention of his income maintenance plan, stressing instead the need for tax reform and the creation, if necessary, of public service jobs to stimulate employment. This presages a major effort by the McGovern - Eagleton team to appeal to the middle and lower-middle class voters, who traditionally have been Democrats and whose vote are essential this year to the party.

He closed on a simple note, a call for America to "come home" — a phrase that reflected the widespread disaffection with the course of the nation that energized his campaign and brought so many "new people" who never before had engaged in politics into his campaign. Mr. McGovern will need to keep the loyalty and enthusiasm of this remarkable political organization intact while he and Mr. Eagleton make their appeals to the regular elements of the party. His acceptance speech provides a splendid blueprint for that task.

SUMMER AND THE MOWER

Summer and lawn mowers go together like love and marriage. Since you can't have one without the other, follow these rules outined by your local power mower retailer: 1) Read the owner's manual thoroughly and understand your machine before you begin. 2) Keep children and pets out of the yard while your're working. 3) Stop the engine when you leave the mower, even for a minute. 4) Keep your feet away from the blades when starting and running the mower. 5) Never pull the mower towards you - always push.

REAL EDUCATION ISSUES

President Nixon's signature of the school aid bill the other day was an act deserving of headlines, but it made them for the wrong reasons.

The attention - getter was the President's verbal lashing of Congress for failing to write antibusing provisions into the measure as he had requested.

Busing is, of course, a legitimate not to mention burning — as the President himself put it — educational issue. It is also a political issue, one which is very much a part of the building presidential campaign.

Emphasis on the flashy political highlights of the bill thus obscured its real significance — the establishment of a new basis for federal aid to higher education, which has nothing whatsoever to do with busing.

For the first time, federal money will be available to financially strapped institutions to use as they wish rather than as specific federal programs spell out. And as a matter of national policy, every student who cannot meet the full costs of an education can now look to the government for financial assistance — up to a maximum $1,400 through new loan and grant programs.

The effects will certainly be considerable, and endure long after this election and, just possibly, the busing issue are history.

That is the good news. The bad news, according to some expert observers of the academic scene, is that something much more will be necessary in the long run to solve education's money problem.

The Carnegie Commission on Higher Education which, under the direction of Clark Kerr, a former head of the University of California, has been examining in depth the state of the nation's colleges and universities since 1967, has released a report on the economics of education which finds the basic problem to be a classic case of inflation.

Expenditures on higher education have been increasing at a rate considerably greater than national economic growth, the commission found. The rise in spending from $7.6 billion in 1960 to $25 billion in 1970 represented a jump of from 1 per cent of the Gross National Product to 2.5 per cent. At the same rate of increase, spending would rise to $51 billion in 1980, or 3.3 per cent of GNP.

Too high, according to the Carnegie study, which recommended a 20 per cent reduction in spending during the next decade, to be achieved by such unpleasant steps as a "cautious" increase in student - faculty ratios, curbing faculty salary increases, trimming enrollments by encouraging "reluctant attenders" to deop out and by a major revision in standard academic practice, telescoping undergraduate study into three years instead of the traditional four.

The Carnegie report strongly accentuates the negative, but if it is anywhere near the mark in assessing the situation, higher education is going to have to look at least as much to itself as to Washington for relief from its financial bind.

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks people get tired of hearing when they come back from a vacation:

"Have you been away?"

"You didn't get much of a tan, did you?"

"You missed the best weather of the year while you were away."

"I'd like to hear all about your vacation, but I guess it'll have to wait until I get back. I'm leaving on my own vacation in half an hour."

"You put on a few pounds, didn't you?"

"Oh, is that where you went? We stayed there year before last. Is it still as terrible as ever?"

"It's a good thing you came back so soon, George. That guy who filled in for you did a great job."

"Think of all the things you could buy now if you'd just stayed home and saved your money."

"Your children behaved like perfect little angels, but I'm glad you're back. Your daughter has the mumps and your son broke his collar bone yesterday, and right now he's getting pretty fretful."s

"I knew I'd left one of the gas jets on the stove burning. It has been burning for two whole weeks. Heaven knows what our gas bill will be this month."

"We missed you, George. But that new guy who filled in for you is an awful nice guy, too."

"I didn't even notice you'd gone until yesterday."

"The first thing I found in the mail this morning was a letter from that vacation lodge saying they had undercharged us $124.50, and asking you to send a check for that amount by return mail. Can they do that to us?"

"I know you said you had a fine time on your vacation, but tell me, what was it really like?"

"Of course, I want to hear about your vacation. But first I want to tell you about mine."

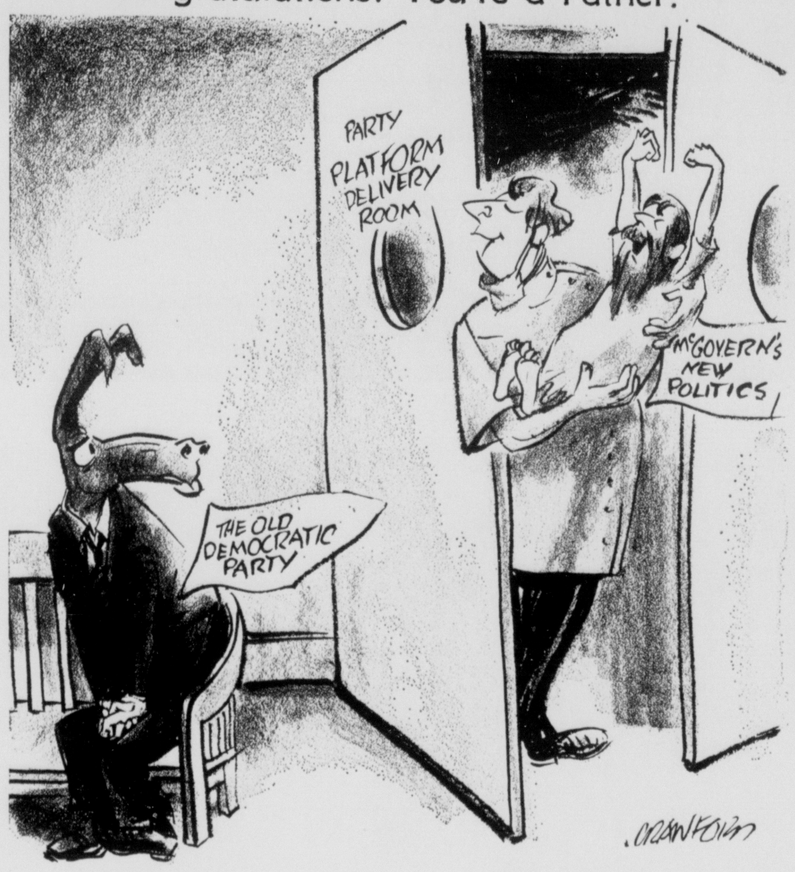

"You look tired. What you need is a vacation from your vacation."

"We'd love to come over and see the pictures you took on your vacation, George. Shall we make it next month sometime?"

"You picked a great time to come back. The worst heat wave of the season is supposed to start tomorrow."

"The guy who filled in for you bought the state lottery ticket you'd bought if you were here. He won a $1,000 consolation prize."

"Congratulations! You're a Father!"

BUSINESS URGES FLEXIBILITY IN FEDERAL LAND POLICIES

Federal land use policy that would "accommodate recreational, esthetic and economic uses" was strongly supported by the National Association of Manufacturers in a statement filed with the House Committee on Interior and Insular affairs.

In its statement the Association supported the general principles of multiple use of public lands, the development of practical means to dispose of Federal property when desirable, and limiting future Federal land acquisitions to areas that fulfill a "definite public purpose" so as not to remove land unnecessarily from the tax rolls.

The House Committee is considering the proposed Public Land Policy Act of 1971 (HR7211) which will be a legislative follow-up to the recommendations of the Public Land Law Review Commission.

The Association did question proposed wording which calls for retention of Federal ownership unless "it is conclusively determined that disposal of particular land or land areas would achieve maximum benefit for the general public." The NAM said that "each tract of land should be judged on the individual merits of the particular case without any presumptions either way."

The Association said: "We certainly support provisions for environmental protection of public lands; however, we believe any general public land-management legislation should specifically acknowledge the fact that certain essential natural resource developments necessarily involve disturbance of the environment, in which case the aim should be to minimize, avoid or repair such disturbances."

On the subject of offshore public lands, the NAM said the U. S. should assert its exclusive jurisdiction over the mineral resources of the entire submerged portion of the continent down to the ocean floor. "The current proposals to internationalize ocean areas beyond a depth of 200 meters should be strongly opposed," the NAM said. "Appropriate regulations are necessary and desirable to minimize pollution of waters in which development of natural resources in offshore public lands is taking place and to avoid other harm to the environment. Industry pledges full cooperation."

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE

The nomination of Senator George McGovern of South Dakota as the presidential candidate of the Democratic Party is one of the most remarkable political success stories in American history. A man who was written off only six months ago as the hopeless candidate of a radical minority has emerged the victor, by a smashing margin and by means that are a credit to the bright young grass- roots organization that put him over the top.

There is complaining among the frustrated old pros at Miami Beach. They are saying that come November an extraordinary number of Democratic leaders will be found sitting on their hands. We do not accept that. The Old Guard is unhappy because new people have swept into the party and swept out many of the old ways; some conventional politicians are bewildered and resentful. But changes are here and will have to be accepted; we think that in the end most Democrats will opt for party harmony. Realistically, what else, in their own self- interest, can they do?

A number of politicians and journalists now admit that they underestimated Senator McGovern and that they were mistaken in hailing Senator Muskie of Maine as the frontrunner earlier in the race. No apologies are due on this score. Senator Muskie was the frontrunner. He is an honorable man who made an excellent impression on the country as a candidate for vice president, who seemed competent to assume the party leadership and who had broad acceptance among Democrats. His political ineptness was not revealed until the competition got tough.

And as for Mr. McGovern, we venture to speculate that he himself was surprised at his own success. He could not have known in the early days of his campaign what strength he could tap among the people and how many expert and dedicated young organizers would carry his banner. He could have guessed and hoped, but he could not have known this until it happened. Evidence in support of this view can be seen in some of the rather extreme specific positions taken and publicized by Mr. McGovern in the fledgling days of his campaign. Had he clearly foreseen the nomination he might have modified thsese sooner rather than later.

It Must be said that fortune smiled on Mr. McGovern; yet he demonstrated amply his planning and organizational ability. If his workers got some breaks, they showed they knew how to exploit them. Indeed the professionalism of some of Mr. McGovern's young and hitherto untried lieutenants was wonderful to behold. They played hard but fair, and the result was a campaign and a convention that was a credit to the candidate and his party, and which presumably was so viewed by the millions of Americans who followed the events on television.

It is not entirely the nomination of Mr. McGovern but the way in which it was brought about that represents a reaffirmation of faith in the processes of presidential selection. The young and the alienated, the disinherited, simply cannot say any longer that they are barred from the system. This in itself has had a therapeutic effect on the country, and George McGovern is entitled to full credit for bringing it about. It has greatly enhanced the worth of the nomination.

SKYJACKING IS PIRACY

Skyjackers are nothing more than modern-day air pirates, criminals endangering the lives of all air travelers. Pirates flourished on the high seas until the sovereign nations declared piracy a capital offense and commenced to enforce these laws by summarily hanging pirates upon capture, causing piracy to quickly pass from the scene.

The many millions of air travelers around the world are entitled to protection by the law. Laws need be enacted immediately by the U.S. and other nations which declare skyjacking to be air piracy and punishable by death and which prohibit airlines from paying extortion or ransom or acquiescing to any demands of skyjackers. Fast and tough enforcement of these laws for the benefit of all ciitzens, not bleeding-heart sympathy for the criminal, is the key to law and order and needs to be applied to air pirates.

The 747 Captain who defended his aircraft against an air pirate and the courageous FBI agents who shot two other air pirates, all within a week, should be commended by all citizens. The airlines could cause their stewardesses to be equipped with high potency tranquilizer guns such as big-game hunters and trainers use to immobilize big game instantly. A stewardess, upon being accosted by an air pirate, could fire a tranquilizer gun without endangering aircraft or passengers and cause instant unconsciousness of the air pirate. All stops need be pulled out by the government, airlines and traveling public to end the skyjacking farce, enforce the laws and protect the public at large.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON -- After the tumult and troubles of the Democratic Convention, the triumphant George McGovern is wondering how to convince labor lord George Meany and Chicago Mayor Richard Daley, that they should support him in November.

The two power brokers of the Stop McGovern movement are stubborn, angry and not easily appeased. Without Meany, McGovern can't get the backing of organized labor which has been essential to every Democratic presidential candidate in modern times.

Without Daley, the McGovern ticket will be in deep trouble in Illinois. And no president except Woodrow Wilson has been elected who lost Illinois.

McGovern sought the advice of his presidential rival, Hubert Humphrey, who was supported by Meany and Daley. "Let things cool for a while," Humphrey suggested. "Don't move too fast. Everybody's tempers are up. Everybody is locked into position. My advice is to cool it."

McGovern asked whether Humphrey would help bring Meany an Daley into the McGovern camp. "Noboby wants to be delivered and frequently they can't be," cautioned Humphrey. It would take a delicate personal relationship, he suggested, for McGovern to win over the two curmudgeons. Humphrey felt that his intervention now "might backfire." But "at the proper time," he thought he might "be of help."

For years, Humphrey and McGovern were close friends and next- door neighbors. Their friendship was strained, however, by their intense personal rivalry.

HUMPHREY'S CALL

When Humphrey lost the crucial credentials fight on the opening night of the convention, he decided to withdraw his candidacy. He picked up the telephone to notify McGovern, who had already gone to bed.

"This is worth getting up for, George," said Humphrey. Then he explained his intention to withdraw and offered his good wishes. "Six months of competition in the political arena," he said, "can't destroy 10 years of being neighbors and friends."

McGovern asked his old friend's advice about a running mate. Senator Ted Kennedy had already turned down the vice presidential nomination because of family obligations, but McGovern hoped to persuade him to change his mind.

Humphrey agreed that Kennedy would add great strength to the ticket. Humphrey had two other suggestions -- House Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur Mills and Connecticut's Senator Abraham Ribicoff. Mills would give "fiscal integrity" to the ticket, said Humphrey.

He also added this pointed advice: "The hope of victory rests in carrying those big states. You want a ticket that can carry New York and California.

After McGovern's formal nomination, Humphrey put through another call to him. It was the first call McGovern accepted.

"George, I know what it means to go through this," said Humphrey. He understood the hard work and the heartache and, finally, the moment of exhiliaration. "Enjoy this moment," urged the old neighbor. "Treasure it. Savor it."

McGOVERN'S DATA BANK

Senator George McGovern has come out four- square against the "pervasive power of computer data banks," but this hasn't restrained him from putting together a data bank of his own.

In his successful fight for the Democratic presidential nomination, McGovern's campaign staff assembled a computerized profile of every delegate who attended the convention.

At the push of a button, McGovern's lieutenants could determine any delegate's name, address, telephone number, spouse, race, sex, age, political position, religion, military service, occupation and education

They also knew whether a delegate had attended past conventions, their "interests" and their stand on issues such as busing and the war.

The computer profile on Harold Hughes, for example, showed the Iowa senator's favorite "issues" are "party reform" and "alcoholism." His "interests" include "veterans- Amer Legion."

Hughes attended the 1964 convention as a Johnson supporter, the profile reveals, but backed McCarthy in 1968 at the Chicago convention. The senator's "education" is listed as "some college." His religion: "Methodist."

Pennsylvania's multimillionaire Gov. Milton Shapp, the computer printout shows, is "Jewish" with "interests" in Jewish, veterans, and civic groups. But the McGovern camp apparently feels Shapp is dull; under the "issues" section, they list none.

Delegate Philip H. Hoff, the former governor of Vermont, according to his computer profile, is "Protestant," supported McCarthy in '68, opposes the Vietnam war, and has "interest" in civil liberties and "civic groups."

The computerized profile on Arizona's Rep. Morris K. Udall shows he is a Mormon, whose "pledge" is Muskie but whose "preference" is McGovern.

Inside Labor

Eagleton Not High: McGovern Snubbed Labor Chiefs During Veep Picking; They Now Plan to Retaliate

MIAMI -- And so the pert 18 - year - old, long - haired delegate Patty Anton and thousands like her in the mode and mood, adjourned their anti- war rally, known as the Democratic Convention of 1972, rushed back to the Gold Coast's Hotel Saxony here, the likes of which she had never seen, packed while chattering enthralled about all the celebrities she had seen " so close up" and flew back to Oskaloosa, Iowa.

But adjournment had not come until after the silly early morning hours when happy delegates gayly began casting Vice Presidential ballots for Marth Mitchell, Barbara Streisand, the Berrigan Brothers, the Yippies' Jerry Rubin and Archie Bunker.

This came about 3 a.m. Thus it had gone the night before until 6 a.m. -- debate on abortion, homosexuals at the mike passionately pleading for pro- gay planks in the platform, a dedicated lesbian and others from the other cultures. All amid cheers -- but none so loud as when orators and later the candidate himself, said there must be instant, unilateral withdrawal from the war at one minute after inauguration. Sen. McGovern's call for a strong America got him a ripple, not a roar.

They were doing their one thing – and it screwed the powerful national labor leaders up tighter on and off the convention floor. Nor were the feelings of the union chiefs and directors of their Committee on Political Education (COPE) assuaged by the Vice Presidential nomination of Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton. Sen. McGovern did not make it easier for his new team by refraining from telephoning these labor leaders to brief them on his second -place choice.

Word had come to the union men, ensconced in the Hotel Fontainebleau and the Americana, that Mr. McGovern had been consulting and briefing important party personalities. But not George Meany or The Terrible Mr. Bang, as the disconsolate COPE director Al Barkean now is dubbed.

Sen. Eagleton is not Meany's kind of people. The attractive gentlemen from Missouri is rated worse than Sen. McGovern on COPE's rating. The Dakotan scored 75 per cent on labor's voting test – the Missourian scored 73 per cent. Mr. Eagleton, by labor's standard, voted wrong on support of the SST, on the Lockheed loan and on confirmation of Supreme Court Justice William H. Rehnquist – for whom the labor chiefs have a special hate.

"Certainly no man could be elected and relected in Missouri as Eagleton has year after year without strong labor support," said one of Meany's intimates on Friday as they packed for a long rap session on the train ride back to Washingoton. "But we're not enthusiastic. He's just more of the same. So we're calling the Executive Council together and we'll have lots to say. Just give (I.W.) Abel's nominating speech for Hubert another going over and you'll see what we mean."

Those of us who heard "Abe" (United Steelworkers president) speak amid the uproar and boos Wednesday night know exactly what Meany's compatriot means. Its significance was lost amid what must be described as massive delegate rudeness and bi-dimensional interest only in the war and the new slogans -- Lettuce, Ladies and Race.

In his brief, bitter and angry talk, Abel, who is a power in the Keystone State of Pennsylvania, told it like it is:

"We're tired of the politicians who denoumce big labor and 'labor bosses' on Monday and then come to us on Tuesday with their hands outstretched...

"We've heard a lot about hypocrisy at this convention -- especially from those who call themselves the advocates of a new politics."

Then Abel hurled a series of charges against McGovern, accusing him of voting against some civil rights legislation, accusing him of bucking appropriations for summer jobs and hitting him on the Vietnam issue.

"Let's end hypocrisy that says that democracy is only for Americans and to hell with the rest of the world. If democracy is worth building at all, it's worth defending in the world," said Abel in a litany of challenges to the vast throng of young people and Sen. McGovern's carefully and strategically placed older disciplinarians.

"Give us a candidate who believes in a strong America and who believes that the cause of freedom doesn't stop at the water's edge."

Boos. Lots of boos. It was this disdainful treatment by the delegates which chilled the chances of Meany's coming in out of the cold.

So the debate will fizzle inside labor's executive suites. Meany got on the train content with his golf score but icy over his political rating here in the party he salvaged just four years ago when he personally managed Hubert Humphrey's campaign to within some five-tenths of one per cent of victory over Richard Nixon despite a late start and Eugene McCarthy's sabotage,

As Able said, labor believes that "liberal politicians" cannot win without labor. "The liberals could get the snob vote, but that's not America." When I.W. Abel raises cain, let the listeners beware. Especially if they are either McGovern or Eagleton, who with all due respect to the youth of Oskaloosa, Iowa, are in desperate need of the middle-aged of Middle America.

Morris Supports Democratic Ticket

CONRAN — Support was urged Saturday for the Democratic national ticket — Sen. George McGovern for president and Missouri's Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton for vice president by Lt. Governor Bill Morris and U. S. Rep. Bill D. Burlison at a New Madrid County Democratic Party barbecue and fish fry.

Speaking briefly before an estimated 800 persons, Morris, a Kansas Citian who is seeking the Democratic nomination for governor in the Aug. 8 primary election, said he believed the McGovern - Eagleton ticket could win in the state "if we get out and work."

Sensing the subdued reservations about Sen. McGovern, as well as exuberance for Eagleton among party regulars, Morris said there were many things he wanted to find out about the Democratic platform from Eagleton, and listed tax reform, welfare, amnesty, capital punishment and "a lot of other things.

" I can't support a platform that includes abolition of capital punishment or recognizes abortion and marijuana," Morris said, "but I can support the ticket as men."

Burlison, a candidate for reelection from the 10th Congressional District, said, "Don't believe all this 'gunk' you read and hear about," noting that Sen. McGovern was from a conservative midwestern agricultural state. Of Eagleton, he said his voting record is impeccable and unimpeachable.

Burlison expressed appreciation for being invited to attend the barbecue. There have been reports the party regulars were irked with the Cape Girardeau representative for his activities in electing delegates, and that a move might be made to unseat him in the August primary in favor of Ed Faulkenberry of House Springs.

Charleston Police Report

CHARLESTON — Three arrests were reported Monday night by the police department.

Appearking before City Judge Frank Gillespie this morning on charges of driving while intoxicated were Roy Lee Johnson, 35, of Charlotte, Fla., and Ernest Robinson, 41, of Selmer, Tenn. Each paid fines of $108, and 30- day jail sentences were stayed on payment of fines and costs. Deborah Kay Stark, 18, of Charleston was fined $10 for speeding.

Daley Will Support McGovern

CHICAGO (AP) — Mayor Richard J. Daley isn't mentioning Sen. George McGovern by name, but he says he "will support every candidate on the Democratic ticket, federal, state and local."

Daley, making his first public appearance since he and 58 delegates loyal to him were replaced by a rival delegation to the Democratic National Convention, isued his blanket endorsement in a statement read at a news conference Monday.

His statement did not mention presidential nominee McGovern by name, and he dodged questions about the South Dakota senator's chances in Illinois.

"I think the voters will give you that answer," Daley said when asked whether he thought McGovern would be a better leader than President Nixon.

Illinois, with 26 electoral votes, is one of the key industrial states that most political analysts agree a Democratic presidential candidate must carry. The support of Daley and his associates in Chicago is generally regarded as necessary to offset a traditionally heavy Republican vote downstate.

Hijackers Plead Innocent

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The two alleged architects of the June 23 hijacking of two American Airlines jets here pleaded innocent to air piracy charges Monday in U.S. District Court and were scheduled to stand trial Aug. 7.

"I am not guilty and innocent of all charges," said Martin J. McNally, 28, of Wyandote, Mich., after Judge James H. Meredith read the indictments against him.

Walter J. Petlikowsky, 31, of Ecorse, Mich., also pleaded innocent to the two counts of air piracy which were handed down in indictments returned by a federal grand jury here.

Burglary Case Bound Over

BLOOMFIELD — Tommy Jones, 24, of North Mulberry Street in Dexter was bound over to Stoddard County Circuit Court Thursday by Judge Koss Blomeyer in Magistrate Court on charges of burglary and stealing.

Jones is accused of breaking into Ringer Hardware and Lumber Company of Dexter on Feb. 12. Taken from the store were 10 shotguns, five rifles and approximately $50 in cash.

Jones was arrested in Poplar Bluff by the Butler County sheriff's department after they received an anonymous phone call that guns were being unloaded from the trunk of a car, driven by Jones, at a house in Poplar Bluff. Fingerprints matching those of Jones were found on some of the guns.

James Wayne Schubert, along with Jones, are also charged with damaging the county jail building.

Sheriff Ed Edwards testified that the night of July 4 the two caused a disturbance in the jail by tearing a commode from the floor of their cell and damaging plumbing. The two were found guilty and were given a 60-day jail sentence and restitution.

Schubert is being held in the jail pending trial in Circuit Court on charges of a forged check.

Amos Andrew Richardson of Essex Route One was ordered to appear at a preliminary hearing set for July 20 on a charge of driving while intoxicated, third offense. Richardson was also charged with driving while license revoked and given a 30-day jail sentence and court costs and a $10 fine and $12.10 costs for driving a vehicle and failing to transfer the license plate.

Charges against Gene Blankenship of stealing less than $50 were continued to July 26.

Mike Christman of Dexter was fined $10 and $13.50 court costs and given a 30-day jail sentence for interferring with the jail.

Other fines and court costs of $12.10 each were levied against Brown Middleton Jr. of Advance, $15, speeding; Leta Kenna of Puxico Route 2, $5, permitting an unauthorized operator; James William Troute of Puxico Route Two, $5, permitting an unauthorized operator; Clifton Eugene Wilkison of Puxico, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident; John Cooper Daniels, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident;

Margaret Mace of Puxico Route Two, $10, no operator license, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident; Jessie Neely Bolin of Bonne Terre Route Two, $15, careless and imprudent driving and involved in an accident; Brian Palmer of Bernie, $10, out -of-state license plate; Glendal Vernon Weathers, $50, possession of liquor; Richard A. Massey, $5, fishing without a license; Vernon Carroll Morgan, public intoxication, $10 and 30 - day suspended jail sentence; Gary Dale Teel, $50, possession of liquor; Calvin Dale Smith, $15, littering; and Gene Ray Worley of Dexter, $10, operating a mortorcycle without license qualifications.

A preliminary hearing was set for Ralph Steakley for July 20 on charges of exhibiting a deadly weapon.

Ann Landers

Teen Spots Trouble And No One Will Listen

Dear Ann Landers: I'm only 17 years old so of course nobody in this dumb family listens to me. But I know something is wrong and if you print my letter and your answer, Aunt Millie will surely see it because she quotes you all the time.

Aunt Millie has been divorced for three years. Her son is six years old. The boy's father left the country and with luck he'll never come back. He was no good.

Aunt Millie's son is a very pretty kid -- looks more like a girl than a boy. His hair is long (gorgeous blonde curls) and his mother puts ribbons in it and and makes his face when company comes over. Last week she bought him some organdy pinafores and took pictures of him in his girlie outfit.

The child acts like a girl and I seel real trouble ahead. I mentioned it to my mother and she said, "He'll outgrow it." She also told me to mind my own business.

What are the chances for this boy growing up to be a normal male? -- Worried.

Dear Worried: Very slim. His mama obviously wants a girl, and her son is going to see to it that she isn't disappointed. If someone can talk some sense into your Aunt Millie's head soon and get that boy to a therapist, he might be salvaged provided Mama gets some therapy too.

Dear Ann Landers: I am trapped in my own home by a brother who came to live with my husband and me a few years ago when he retired.

Immediately after breakfast he starts to drink beer. He drinks beer all day long, one can after the other. By the time I put supper on the table he is either nasty, silly, silent, or engaged in a full blown dialogue with himself, asking questions and answering them as if he were putting on a two-actor play, with himself taking both parts. It's nervewracking!

Both my husband and I have tried to reason with him but it's useless. He flies into a rage and tells us he's old enought to know what he wants to do. Please tell me how to deal with this man. He has changed our home from a pleasant place to a house of quarreling and discontent. I can't ask him to leave because he has no living relative but me. --Trapped In Colorado

Dear Trapped: You are being grossly unfair to your husband. Tell your brother unless he is willing to cut out the guzzling, he will have to find himself a rented room somewhere because he is ruining your home life.

I'm sure you know he's an alcoholic -- and there are places an alcoholic can go for help, if he wants to dry up.

Dear Ann Landers: That letter from the young girl whose uncle got funny with her made me hopping mad. Such uncles are few and far between, like one in a million. Your column cast ugly aspersions on the wonderful uncles everywhere. You owe them all an apology. -- Main Reader

Dear Reader: You are right when you say funny uncles are few and far between. But they do exist. I received over a hundred letters from grown women who wrote to express thanks. They said that particular column brought back some nightmarish memories but they were glad I printed it. In almost every instance their parents never had a clue about the funny uncle and they were afraid to tell. One reader put it this way, "I hope that column opens some eyes, Ann. Your column is a post-graduate course in human relations and kinky relatives."

Are your parents too strict? Hard to reach? Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents? How To Get More Freedom," could help you bridge the generation gap. Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to this newspaper.

Q—Who wrote the "Timothy Titcomb Letters"?

A — The American writer Josiah Gilbert Holland. They were a commentary on the manners and morals of his times.

Registration For Dexter H.S. Set

DEXTER — Registration for senior high school students for the 1972-73 term will be held Thursday, Aug. 3, in the west lobby of the senior high school.

The registration schedule will be as follows:

8:30- 9:30 a.m., seniors.

9:30 a.m. - 10:30 a.m., juniors.

10:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m., sophomores.

1 p.m. - 3 p.m., freshmen.

An enrollment fee of $13 is to be paid at the time of registration. This fee covers the cost of textbooks, student handbooks, lockers, admission to assemblies, and a season ticket to all regular season home basketball and football games. Of this amount, $3 will be refunded at the end of the term providing all books are returned in good condition.

It is necessary that students enroll at the designated time. Students who will be out of town should arrange to have someone else register for them. Enrollment in the various classes will be determined by the number of students who register.

Pictures for the yearbook for freshmen, sophomores and juniors will be taken during registration. Senior pictures will be taken as follows:

Boys, Wednesday, Aug. 2, 9 a.m., auditorium.

Girls, Friday, Aug. 4, 9 a.m., auditorium.

Senior boys should wear dark suit coats or sport jackets. Girls should wear dark sweaters.

Assisting were Mrs. Betty Ressel of Kelso and Mrs. Rita Bader, of Dexter, 4-H leaders. Also helping were Mrs. Elaine Malcolm of Sikeston and Mrs. Judi Atherton of Dexter, youth educational assistants, University of Missouri extension division.

Soprano Calls Opera An Expensive Business

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Young people are getting breaks sooner in opera because it is now possible to be thrown right into a big role rather than having to play lesser roles during a long period of apprenticeship, says lovely Marisa Galvany of Fair Lawn, N.J., an American girl who made a singing career "without going to Europe." She is with the New York City Opera.

Opera is still an expensive business for performers and it still requires great discipline which helps tame the ego, but discouragement doesn't set in from lack of breaks if you have talent, says Marisa, now in her early 30s.

"My debut came exactly that way. I was worked right into a role playing Queen Elizabeth. In addition to getting a chance to be heard, the imperiousness of the role provided me with an opportunity to get some of my arrogance out of my system."

The well-known soprano's voice has been described variously "as a dramatic coloratura rising to luscious low register . . . a voice, chesty at its bottom, warm and velvety . . . a soaring voice. She has been touring with Sol Hurok for five years.

"The disciplines are enormous," she says. "I miss family dinners, and the household must revolve around my interests. Sally, my 11-year-old, often is deprived of those Sunday mother-daughter outings, and she often cannot invite children to the house if they have colds to which I can't expose myself.

Designers Spurn Dressy Evening Wear For Men

In fact, the fall-winter collections shown here Sunday spurned any kind of dressy evening wear. The closest one designer came to it was with shantung kimono-type jackets or the military tunic of some comic strip character.

Designers appeared to have passed the word around to concentrate on sporty outfits with their tweedy jackets, plaids and fancy checks.

The couturiers widened their ties and kept their jackets narrow, though seldom marking the waist. One favored high buttoned vests that peeped out from the suit coats.

Valentini squared shoulders and gave many of his outfits an almost oblong shape. In particular, he designed suede-cloth uniform tunics, closed by a zip fastener, from which a poloneck sweater emerged.

He used the same style for an evening suit, all black except for the hand-painted gold patterns across the top. This outfit was closed under one arm giving the impression it had been molded over the model.

In many cases, the designers did away with buttons and closed jackets with a zipper. One couturier, however, not only kept buttons but covered them with the same fabric as his suits.

A Mach number expresses the ratio between the speed of an object and the speed of sound in the medium through which the object is traveling. A plane moving at the speed of sound is traveling at Mach 1; at twice the speed of sound, Mach 2.

Geriatric Center Director Says Elderly Need Better Nutrition

NEW YORK (AP) — The majority of elderly Americans living alone — rich or poor — do not consume an adequate diet. That is the opinion of Dr. Herbert A. Seltzer, executive director of the Daughters of Jacob Geriatric Center here, who has conducted studies on the nutrition of the elderly and what can be done to improve it.

"The social aspect of eating is very important," he says. "How many people living alone are going to make a whole meal day after day? Instead they snack and eat the wrong foods."

Poor nutrition often is not so much a matter of money, though this can be a factor, as of failure to take the time or make the effort to prepare a balanced meal, adds Seltzer.

He suggests those living alone make arrangements wherever possible to share meals and mealtime with others in the same situation. "Find someone in the apartment building or neighborhood and eat together; make it a dutch treat or alternate preparation of the meals."

And he recommends that those who must eat alone make a ceremony out of it, cooking a full-course, balanced meal and eating it in the proper setting, perhaps with candles on the table and a little wine to go with the dinner if it's approved by their doctor.

The director, who holds an MA from Harvard and a Doctor of Divinity degree from the Jewish Theological Seminary of America, has headed the geriatric center for the past 32 years. A nonprofit Federation of Jewish Philanthropies agency, it has more than 500 residents ranging in age from 70 to 109.

Good eating habits are especially important to the elderly because they are conducive to better health, Seltzer points out. "If they stuff themselves with snacks they become obese and if they lose interest in food they fade away into nothing."

He considers absolutely essential one hot nutritional meal a day, seven days a week. He thinks more local programs such as "Meals-on-Wheels," through which a balanced, hot meal is delivered ready to eat, would go a long way toward solving the problem.

"It's an outrage that local institutions don't use their kitchens to provide such meals," Seltzer declares. "Without straining the dietary facilities of a hospital, many additional meals could be produced. The cost of raw food is the smallest part in institutional preparation and if an organization regularly serves 300 meals it won't cost that much more to prepare an extra 100 to be sent out to people who otherwise wouldn't have a hot, nourishing meal."

Not only do older people fail to eat properly because they won't take the time or trouble but by the time they've reached their 80s they have gotten into eating patterns that are impossible to break.

"Regardless of what specialized diet a person is on it's possible to eat balanced meals within the restrictions, but our dietician knocks her brains out to prepare a nutritionally balanced meal and some of them leave it and then go into the snack shop to fill up," the director laments.

Seltzer advises the elderly, who often have no idea what elements constitute an adequate diet, to get a booklet on nutrition from any health agency and adhere to it rigorously.

Gibson Wins 10th Straight

HOUSTON (AP) — Every pitcher has to lose sometime. Or does he? Bob Gibson has plenty of chances to ponder the question.

"Who says you have to lose?" Gibson challenged Monday night after he decked the Houston Astros 3-2 with a ninehit performance which included 13 strikeouts.

"I guess you do, but I don't spend any of my time thinking about it," he said. "You try to build up your own confidence for each game and not think about losing. I don't look forward to breaking the string."

"The string" is 10 straight victories for the 37-year-old rapid-fire artist after losing his first five decisions of the season.

Gibson protected his streak Monday night by whiffing nine of 10 batters in one stretch and walking only one Astro — and that was intentional.

Does he get any satisfaction out of silencing his critics with 10 straight victories?

"When I win 10 games in a row I don't have my critics in mind at all," Gibson said.

There certainly weren't any critics in the Astros' dressing room.

"If you play cards with a guy and he gets a hot hand, what are you going to do — slap his wrists?" Astros manager Harry Walker asked.

Lou Brock staked Gibson to a 1-0 lead in the sixth inning with a run-scoring single and Gibson was most appreciative.

"If I were in a World Series ... I can't think of any guy I'd rather have than that guy right there (Brock)," Gibson said. "I've been through three World Series with him and I know what he can do when the chips are down."

Donn Clendenon put the Cards over the top with a solo homer in the eighth and Luis Melendez hit a run-scoring single to wrap it up.

Houston scored another run in the eighth on Lee May's single.

Gibson called himself a slow starter but said, "This is the first time I started out without any victories.

"The only time I started fast, I was 8-0 and before I knew it I was 8-7." Gibson said he just didn't get going good until well into the season. Despite this, he may even lose a game sometime — but it doesn't seem like it.

Poplar Bluff Hosts Horseshoe Pitching

POPLAR BLUFF- AAU championship competition in horseshoe pitching will be held here for the first time as the Poplar Bluff Park and Recreation Department hosts the Ozark AAU horseshoe pitching championships on Aug. 5-6.

According to AAU officials, this is the first time a championship has been held in this popular sport in the Ozark Association. The Ozark Association roughly comprises the eastern half of the state of Missouri.

Championship play will be held in both singles and doubles. Entry fee is two dollars per player in each event. All participants must be AAU - registered and this must be done prior to competition.

Complete tournament information, entry blanks and AAU registration forms are available from the tournament director, John Lawson, Supt. of Parks & Recreation, P. O. Box 472, Poplar Bluff, Missouri 63901.

Sports Briefs

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The American Basketball Association champion Indiana Pacers will entertain the Detroit Pistons of the National Basketball Association Oct. 4 at the Indianapolis Fairgrounds Coliseum, then travel to Flint, Mich., for a return match the next night.

The two exhibition games against the Pistons were announced by the Pacers Monday night.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Vitas Gerulatis of New York City, the No. 3 seed in the 18and-under division of the National Junior Clay Court Championships, was overpowering in his first-round match, easily downing Rick Schaeffer of Louisville 6-1, 6-0.

John Whitlinger of Neenah, Wis., the defending 18-and-under champion, also had little trouble gaining Tuesday's second round, defeating Robert Wright of Fullerton, Calif., 6-3, 6-2.

Allen Tops Vote

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Allen, a two-time All-Star in the ational League, was the top vote-getter on the American League All-Star team announced today by Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The Chicago White Sox slugger, who leads the American League with 19 home runs and 61 runs batted in, received 1,092,758 of the 3,171,556 votes cast in the nationwide poll of fans. Allen, acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers in a major winter trade, easily won the starting first base assignment over Detroit's Norm Cash, the runnerup with 729,753 votes.

Only one other player received more than one million votes. That was veteran third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, who easily got the nod at third base over Oakland's Sal Bando, 1,041,128 votes to 362,360.

The only team with more than one representative on the starting all-star team is the Boston Red Sox, who placed Luis Aparicio at shortstop and Carl Yastrzemski in the outfield. The 43rd annual All-Star Game will be played Tuesday night July 25 in Atlanta and will be nationally televised by NBC.

Joining Allen, Aparicio and Robinson in he starting infield will be Rod Carew of Minnesota, a starter for the sixth straight time. Carew polled 832,055 votes to 411,253 for runnerup Cookie Rojas of Kansas City.

Reggie Jackson of Oakland topped the outfielders in the voting with 902,421. Joining him in the starting outfield will be Yastrzemski, 603,151, and Bobby Murcer of New York, 506,241.

Detroit's Bill Freehan will be the starting catcher, having outpolled Cleveland's Ray Fosse 767,538 to 483,366.

Carew, Aparicio, Robinson and Yastrzemski also were starters last year. Robinson is making his eighth all-star appearance, Freehan his sixth, Aparicio his fifth, Yastrzesmki his fourth, Jackson his second and Murcer his second.

Allen was named to the starting team twice as a National Leaguer, once with the Philadelphia Phillies and once with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The National League's starting team, announced Monday, lists Lee May, Houston, first base; Joe Morgan, Cincinnati, second base; Joe Torre, St. Louis, third base; Don Kessinger, Chicago, shortstop; Johnny Bench, Cincinnati, catcher, and Hank Aaron, Atlanta, Roberto Clemente, Pittsburgh, and Willie Stargell, Pittsburgh, outfield.

Managers Danny Murtaugh of the National League and Earl Weaver of the American League will select the pitching staffs for their teams, as well as the reserves. They need not pick the runners-up in the fans balloting.

Sr. Stars... Champs

Sikeston's Senior Babe Ruth All- Stars showed signs of a "real" championship team Monday afternoon when they withstood a four-run final- inning rally by the SeMo All- Stars to record a 9-6 second straight triumph in the best of three series, cementing the District 3 title and right to advance to the state finals Thursday at Jefferson City.

SeMo used a late rally in the first game of the series Friday night to hang up a runaway 16-1 win, but the Sikeston crew roared back Sunday to capture a 13-inning pitching duel, 3-2, setting the stage for the deciding Monday night win.

Mike Mitchell, victim of the SeMo stars' first game rally, stymied the SeMo athletes on five hits and two runs through six innings, but tired and gave up four runs and four hits in the final frame before subduing the all- stars from Lilbourn, New Madrid, Bertrand and East Prairie.

Sikeston's All- Stars placed second in the state last season and third the season before. And as one of this year's star pitchers put it ... "It's our turn for the title and the trip to the regional playoffs."

It looked as if the Sikeston Stars were in for a long game as an error in the first inning handed the visiting SeMo unit a quick 1-0 lead. Mitchell worked out of the jam and sent his team into the rewarding second frame.

Catcher John Leible, whose game- winning single ended the 13- inning duel Sunday, started the Sikeston stars rolling with a lead- off triple. The Sikeston lineup caught fire and exploded with seven runs in the second- inning rally for a commanding 7-1 lead. Four hits followed Leible's crowd-pleasing shot, including a double from Mike Collier and back-to- back singles from Paul Johnson and Bob Blankenship.

Tim Bard worked through the first part of the second frame for the SeMo Stars and gave way to McClarty, who likewise was tagged in the big inning. Bard received the loss as McClarty and Girvin supplied relief work.

Sikeston's final two runs came in the third inning on two hits and three walks, pushing the edge to 9-1.

A single run in the fifth inning, backed by two singles in the SeMo lineup doubled the visitor's total and left the Sikeston lead at a 9-2 mark. In the last- Inning effort, the SeMo stars collected four singles and utilized two errors to cut the Sikeston lead to its final three- run margin. Singles from SeMo's Dambach, Harmon and Pat McClarty paced the losers' final surge. McClarty led SeMo with three hits.

Mitchell fanned 10 batters and walked only three in picking up the district championship mound win. Sikeston's Greg Colwick and Mike Collier paced the winners at the plate with two hits each. Collier came across the plate with two Sikeston runs, as did Rick Dyer.

Sikeston will pack up Thursday morning and head for a Thursday evening entry into state competition at Jefferson City. Sikeston will meet the winner of the District 2 playoff and Jefferson City first round meeting. Five teams are entered in the state event.

Tri-County, Chaffee Wins Open Play

Tri- County and Chaffee emerged as first round winners Monday night opening action of the Junior Babe Ruth District 3 tournament at V.F.W. Stadium.

Tri- County collected a slim 6-5, extra- inning triumph over New Madrid in the opening contest to move into tonight's 7 p.m. second-round tilt with East Prairie.

Chaffee exploded for 12 first- inning runs and galloped to a 15-9 final win over Charleston in the nightcap and moved into a 9 p.m. bout with Sikeston tonight.

Both East Prairie and Sikeston drew first round byes in the six- team tournament and move into action for the first time tonight. Monday night's losers — New Madrid and Charleston — dropped into the loser's bracket of the double- elimination event to await a shot at tonight's victims.

In Monday's first game, New Madrid scored two seventh- inning runs, capitalizing on a fielding miscue , a balk and a timely two- run single from S. Taylor to tie the game 5-all at the end of regulation play.

Tri- County rebounded with the winning run in the top of the eight frame, sending leadoff batter Schlosser home with the lead run after the first baseman reached base on an error. Caldwell supplied the RBI drive that earned the Tri-County unit the victory.

Hatchell went the distance for the winning Tri-County squad and picked up a triple at the plate to score the team's first run.

In the nightcap, three leadoff walks set up a clean-up double for Chaffee's McIntosh in the first inning to star the winners on a 12-run first- inning rampage. the opening burst kept Chaffee in the lead throughout the game, although Charleston threatened with six runs in the fourth inning of the15-9 battle.

Bess went the distance for Chaffee, checking the Charleston lineup on six hits. Bess and Wachter powered the winners' lineup with two of the team's seven hits apiece.

Home Runs Anchor National Wins

NATIONAL LEAGUE — Home runs keyed both victories in National League action Monday night. Lewis Furniture's Davis blasted two home runs and two doubles and teammate McGee added a home run and a double to lead their team to a 13-9 triumph over Security National Bank.

A & B Leasing's Mark Lee blasted a two out, fence - clearing home run in the ninth inning to put his team in the winner's circle with a 9-8 extra - inning verdict over Legion.

Lewis' win was powered by a 10-hit attack and backed with the one-hit pitching of Deal and Francis. Davis' two home runs and two doubles accounted for five Lewis RBI's, and the Lewis catcher also scored four runs.

A & B had scored six runs in the bottom of the sixth inning to send the game into extra innings before Lee sent the A & Bers home with the one run win.

AMERICAN LEAGUE — First National Bank pulled two games ahead of Police in American League action Monday night, as the Western Division frontrunners scored a 15-5 win over Sealtest. Caproco was dumped in the nightcap in a 12-5 loss to Fabick and fell a full game behind Fabick in the Eastern standings.

Fabick, 10-1, picked up the win behind a 14-hit barrage paced by the two-hit efforts of Garrett, Duncan and Francis.

Mayfield collected four hits and scored three runs to pace First National Bank in its 15-5 win over Sealtest. Longstreet added three hits to the attack.

MUSIAL LEAGUE — Collins Construction all but clinched a Musial League Eastern Division title last night in a 9-8 win over Bank of Sikeston Monday night, shutting down a last-inning, four - run Bank rally to preserve the win. Bank's loss dropped the squad back into a first place deadlock with idle Kingsway Plaza in the Western Division race.

In the evening's first game, Hart's Bread dropped Todd Laundry, 13-5, and moved its record to a 4-8 mark. Three hits each from Hart's Smith and Daniel paved the way in the 13-hit attack.

Collins' 9-8 win over Bank of Sikeston in the nightcap gave the Constructioneers an 11-1 mark in the Eastern standings, a comfortable lead over runnerup Malone and Hyde, 8-3.

Memorial Proposed

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — A Berkshire peace group wants to build a bomb crater in Pittsfield's square as a memorial to the devastation of the Vietnam war.

The Berkshire Peace Center has petitioned the City Council for permission to construct the 8x20-foot crater, to simulate the aftermath of a 500-pound bomb similar to those dropped in Vietnam.

"We would guarantee the crater site would be maintained with flowers and shubbery as a memorial to those who have died in Vietnam, the petition said.

The park now has a memorial to those who died in the Civil War.

Housing Loan Approved At Chaffee

WASHINGTON, D.C. -- Congressman Bill D. Burlison of Missouri's 10th Congressional District today announced that the Department of Housing and Urban Development has approved a loan of $10,000 to the City of Chaffee for Public housing under the turnkey program.

Burlison, a Cape Girardeau Democrat, noted that the project calls for the construction of 50 units of low-rent public housing consisting of 34 units of non-elderly and 16 units of elderly housing.

Highlights & Sidelights
from Our State Capitol

JEFFERSON CITY -- A program under which college-bound high school students in Missouri may receive as much as $900 in state financial aid may not get off the ground until September 1973, higher education officials say.

The program, established this spring by the Missouri General Assembly, faces delays due to lack of financing and possible court challenges.

Under the program, upper class students are not eligible for the grants, but freshmen who receive them will be able to continue to receive them for a maximum of 10 semesters or of their equivalent. The state scholarships could be used at any public or private college of university in Missouri.

Senate Bill 613 authorized $1.3 million for the program which would be matched by equal funds from the U.S. Office of Education. However, the General Assembly failed to make the appropriations.

"Our request for state appropriations will be turned in around mid- September," said Don Lindenbusch, deputy executive director and director of financial planning and development of the Missouri Higher Education Commission. The Commission is charged with administering the program.

Lindenbusch said the program may not be funded until fiscal 1973-74, and that he did not expect the full $1.3 million if the program were funded for the period beginning January 1973.

Qualifications for the scholarships include residency and financial need. Lindenbusch suggested that students also would qualify for the program through educational testing. Similar programs exist in 22 other states. However, Allen W. Purdy, director of Student Financial Aid Services at the University of Missouri, who will aid in the development of the program, was uncertain about deciding qualificatioons.

"Qualifications have not been worked out," Purdy said. "Nothing has been put down in writing beyond what the law says."

He said exact qualifications would not be determined until the program has received funding and passed any court challenge.

A challenge is possible from goups that opposed passage of the program while it was in the General Assembly. It has been called unconstitutional by the Missouri Baptist Christian Life Commission among other organizations. The Baptist group contends that the program would in effect be state aid to private institutions.

Purdy said he did not know how long a court action would take, but he added, "If everything went smoothly and quickly, some freshmen in school in September (1972) may get a grant to help them the following September."

Eagleton Outlines Goals

WASHINGTON (AP) — As president, Sen. George McGovern would grant amnesty on a case-by-case basis and limit it to draft resisters, his Democratic running mate says.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, picked by McGovern Thursday as the Democratic party's vice presidential candidate, also predicted higher taxes by 1974. And he said there will be no mass defections of leading party figures to the Republicans.

The Missouri Democrat said there is no basic difference on amnesty between McGovern and President Nixon. Neither man would grant automatic amnesty to deserters and both would delay the question until the fighting stops, he said.

Eagleton said he would discuss campaign strategy with McGovern at a South Dakota resort later this week.

The 42-year-old senator also:

—Said the draft should continue as long as the shooting does because "the risk of dying should be shared equally."

—Acknowledged McGovern would leave Air Force and Naval forces in Thailand and elsewhere in the Pacific after U.S. troops were withdrawn from Indochina. These forces might be reduced gradually later, he said.

—Said he believes the Vietnam war would not be ended as long as South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu is in office.

—Declared McGovern's $1,000-per-person income redistribution program is being substantially reworked.

—Declared up to $10 billion could be pared from the defense budget this fiscal year.

—Said that, if elected, he expects to specialize in law and order and urban affairs.

—Called Vice President Spiro Agnew "Nixon's hatchet man" and added "it seems to be his role to go around and try to divide the nation."

Clean Water Bonds

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The first sale of $20 million worth of water pollution bonds approved by the voters last October will be held in Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' office next Thursday at 11 a.m.

The 25-year bonds are part of a total of $150 million authorized by the voters.

The money will go for the state's 25 per cent share of local sewage and other water pollution control projects, with cities putting up 20 per cent and the federal government 55 per cent.

Sealed bids were received by the Board of Fund Commissioners starting today and will be opened next Thursday.

The bonds will mature serially on June 1 of each year, starting with a payment of $570,000 next year and $1,205,000 as a final payment in 1997. Larger amounts may be redemmed by the state if the money is available starting in 1987.

What's The Law?
The Case Of The Noisy Highway

By Jack Strauss, LL. B.

George was so sensitive to noise that an ant walking around in his cookie jar could probably keep him awake all night. Consequently, picutre has consternation when he was suddenly awakened one morning by cars speeding to and fro on a new highway that had been built practically right under hisnoise.

Actually, the state had condemned a large portion of George's land for highway purposes and had paid him for doing so. But he never figured that when the highway was completed, it would only be 50 feet from his front door. Suddenly there it was.

And, being a practical fellow, George knew that he wasn't going to be able to move the highway. So he did the next best thing. He sued the state for damanges.

"While I may have gotten paid for the land that was taken," he told the judge, "I didn't get paid for the damage to the land I kept. And with all that noise at my doorstep, its value has been reduced and that's damage enought."

"Nope," responded the attorney for the state. "A person can only get paid for damage to property when the property has been damaged. And, anybody knows that sound waves can't damage property."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you award George damaged because of the noise caused by the highway?

his is how the judge ruled: NO! The judge held that, generally, a person cannot collect for damages to his property in the absence of some definite physical injury. Payment is not required, concluded the judge in effect, because something affects his senses. (Based upon a 1969 Utah Supreme Court Decision)

DON LOPER, familiar name in men's and women's fashions, partially dropped out of retail designing because of freakish clothing tastes. He's reactivating his dress designing business as faddishness gives way to attractive, sensible styles.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, July 18, the 200th day of 192. There are 166 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in the year 64 A.D. the great fire of Rome began. The legend is that Emperor Nero set the fire and fiddled as the city burned.

On this date:

In 1792, the American naval hero, John Paul Jones, died in poverty in Paris.

In 1914, the U.S. Army created an Aviation Section within the Signal Corps and six planes were made available for air training.

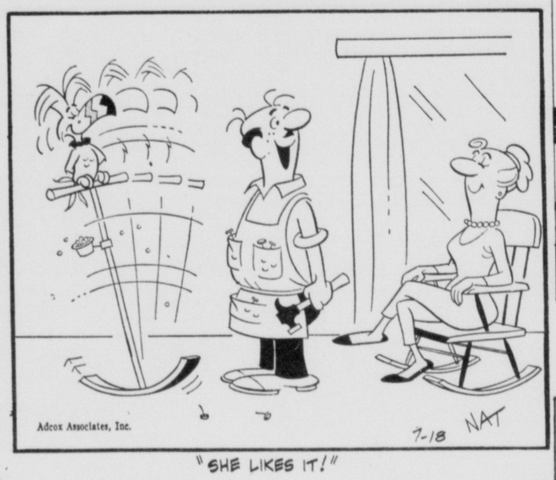

In 1932, the United States and Canada signed a treaty to develop the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Ten years ago: The government of Peru was overthrown by military leaders and the United States halted military aid to that country.

Five years ago: Railroad workers began returning to work, ending their nationwide strike and President Johnson named a conciliation panel to settle the dispute.

Sinatra Testifies To Crime Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Sinatra marched grimly into a House Select Crime Committee room today and accused the committee of indecently and irresponsibly letting a convicted felon "bandy my name about."

"It was character assassination, let's face it," the retired crooner told a jammed hearing room.

Sinatra said the committee should have immediately refuted the testimony of Joseph (The Baron) Barboza May 24 that the singer had been a front man for La Coa Nostra money in the Fontainebleau and Sand Hotels in Miami Beach and Las Vegas.

"This bum went running off at the mouth and I resent and I won't have it," Sinatra said. "I'm not a second class citizen. Let's make that clear."

"How do you repair the damage that was printed in the newspapers?" he demanded.

Committee counsel Joseph Phillips said Barboza unexpectedly made the charge about fronting for the mobs in the two hotels when he was asked about a completely unrelated matter at the May 24 hearing.

Phillips said the answer could not have been anticipated or cut off and noted that the Fontaineb eae had filed an affidavit denying the story.

"And at that point someone, presumably the counsel, should have done something to refute that story," Sinatra said. He suggested the committee should have called the press in and announced the hotel's statement.

"I don't have to refute it because there isn't any truth to it," Sinatra said of the Fontainebleau story at another point.

As for his purchase of stock in the Sands hotel in 1963, he said that was bought "with my own money."

The huge House caucus room was jammed with spectators and at least 200 people waited outside as Sinatra began testifying.

There were several squeals of recognition reminiscent of his crooner days as he came down a corridor, moving unsmilingly and quickly toward the committee room.
